In the southwest, where a blizzard has claimed at least 12 lives in New Mexico and west Texas, rescuers were aided in their work today by rising temperatures.

Supreme Court Judge De Courcy Castigates City of Lowell for Unnecessary and Useless Litigation

Comment Comes During Discussion of Central Bridge Case Today—Judge Declares That "Somebody Ought to Be Investigated"—Calls Situation Most Astounding State of Affairs and Does Not Reflect Credit Upon the City

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—Comment upon the frequent litigation over city contracts in Lowell was made by Judge DeCourcy of the Supreme court today, when counsel for the Engineering Service and Construction Co., filed a motion to have dissolved an injunction obtained by the city of Lowell to prevent the company from collecting an execution for $28,000 for work done on a bridge in Lowell.

"It is almost beyond credence," the court said, "it is a most astounding state of affairs for the city of Lowell that it cannot do a job up there without having a lot of litigation over it. I think the people there should know that it is not for the credit of the city."

"It is quite apparent that there is more than appears on the face of these papers. Somebody ought to be investigated. I don't know who, I don't say who, I don't know anything about the case. But it seems to me that there is bad faith somewhere on the part of someone in this litigation. And this is not the only one from the city of Lowell, where there has been a lot of litigation over contracts."

The injunction secured by the City of Lowell, enjoining the Engineering Service & Construction Co., from serving its execution against the city in connection with the reconstruction of Central bridge, still is in effect as result of ruling given today by Judge DeCourcy.

The case was in court again today, upon a motion of Attorney John M. O'Donoghue to dissolve the injunction, which motion was denied.

The city solicitor opposed the motion on the ground that an agreement has been made to the effect that the Engineering Service and Construction Co. will make no attempt to collect this money until a new motion filed by the city to vacate the decree, or reopen the case, has been passed upon.

LOWELL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS IN BOSTON

President Fisher, Secretary-Manager Wells and Others Attend Convention of Allied Members of State Chamber of Commerce

President Edward Fisher and Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of Lowell chamber of commerce, accompanied by Samuel H. Thompson, president of the Thompson Hardware company, together with Members Ralph and Chester Runnels of the local chamber went to Boston today to attend a convention of allied members of Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, holding this afternoon an important session for deliberations of New England business imports.

Special speakers were to address the business men after the noon hour. One of the chief subjects for inquiry and debate is the proposed legislation calling for the arbitration of all commercial disputes by properly authorized bodies. For ten years or more, business men in New York state have had the benefits of laws that work to prevent continual lawsuits and check vexing wrangles over settlement of trade supplies and payments.

It is said that in some states where commercial arbitration is not in force, out of 25,000 lawsuits over business disputes last year, only 3000 could be heard in the civil courts. Under the system recommended to Massachusetts commercial interests for approval and legislative adoption, hundreds of disputes could be settled in reasonable fashion with arbitration in force and more amicable adjustments made by "all at the same table" methods.

Lowell commercial men believe the proposed legislation worth adopting and were prepared this afternoon to so express themselves at the Boston conference.

Mr. Thompson of this city, is vice-president of the state organization and presided at the meeting.

LOWELL CASE WILL GO TO FULL BENCH FOR DECISION

Action Brought to Prevent Erection of Tailor Shop in Residential District in High Street Went to Hearing Today Before Judge Hammond

The action brought by Building Inspector Francis A. Connor against Joseph Stoklosa of Lowell, seeking a temporary injunction to restrain him from erecting a tailor shop at 215 High street, included in a zoned residential district, will go to the full bench of the supreme court for decision.

The case went to preliminary hearing this forenoon at the Pemberton Square court house in Boston, before Judge Hammond in the equity motion session of the superior court and after hearing arguments presented by City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, representing Inspector Connor, and Attorney William D. Regan, representing Mr. Stoklosa, the court deemed the case of sufficient importance to send to the full bench for decision.

No date for hearing before the full bench has been set.

The case is deemed of unusual importance inasmuch as it is the first brought under the local zoning ordinance and it is felt a precedent will be established upon the result.

be if the tests are satisfactory. The signal is claimed to have a sound radius of more than four miles.

The purchase and permanent installation of a siren signal will do away with the 2-2-2 no-school signal now sounded on the fire alarm bell system.

NEW SIREN WILL BE PUT TO TEST TOMORROW

The new electric no-school siren signal, secured by the school department upon trial from the American-LaFrance Fire Engine Co., will be tested at intervals tomorrow forenoon.

The siren has been installed and wired on the roof of the high school annex and will be operated by a switch within the building. Business Agent Henry L. Williams will be in charge of the tests.

The position of the siren on the annex roof is only temporary and has been placed there solely for the purpose of a trial. It has not been purchased by the city, but probably will

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IN ACTION OF TORT

In civil session of police court yesterday, Judge Fisher presiding, plaintiff in action of tort brought by Apollonia Gaida, nee vs. George P. Nichols was awarded a verdict of $300.

According to testimony introduced, the plaintiff, a girl eight years of age, was walking on the sidewalk on Anderson street, near the corner of Perry street, on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14, when Nichols' automobile ran onto the sidewalk and struck her. At St. John's hospital physicians who examined the victim found no broken bones, but reported badly injured and severe shock.

The defense claimed that the automobile steering gear mechanism became suddenly unmanageable and this accounted for the accident. Max Goldman appeared for the plaintiff and James E. O'Donnell for the defendant.

Havers won the English championship for the first time this year. Sarazen, winner of the professional match-play title a year ago, repeated this season.

MRS. GREENSLITT DEAD

Report of Death of Former Lowell Woman in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Word has been received here of the death last Saturday in New Rochelle, N. Y., of Mrs. Truman W. Greenslitt, nee Elizabeth L. Cleveland, a former Lowell resident. Her husband was founder of The Evening Standard in that city and published it up to a short time ago when the paper was combined with The Daily Star.

Mrs. Greenslitt, prominent with the Women's club, the Garden club, and Trinity church work in New Rochelle, was actively associated with her husband in the management and editing of The Standard during his tenure as editor. Mrs. Greenslitt established a Saturday Chat page which to this day is regarded by the greater number of subscribers as one of the most important and indispensable features of the paper. During the World war she was active in soldier welfare work at Fort Slocum, the big army recruit receiving station in New Rochelle, and devoted much of her time to Red Cross and Liberty Loan drives.

A tireless, energetic worker, she was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact. Besides her devoted husband, one sister, Miss Rebecca Cleveland, survives. Mrs. Greenslitt first became ill last March when she suffered a partial stroke of paralysis. Until a few hours before the end she retained control of her faculties and her mind did not share the impairment of her physique, save at intervals.

Rev. Paul Gordon Payour, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, conducted the services at her home in New Rochelle on Tuesday, where the body lay in state on its interment in Beechwood cemetery there. The family of Dr. Payour belonged to the same church here in Lowell as did Mrs. Greenslitt and the minister in his eulogy mentioned this fact.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Adventures, soldiers of fortune, fugitives from justice, and gold hunters in search of their respective goals—all of the motley and dregs of civilization loathe in the terse drama of the northland, "Where the North Begins," now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre as the feature attraction.

This Warner Brothers' classic of the screen was filmed in northern California, in a wild region rarely visited by mortals. To the making of it was brought a cast of players—all of whom are acquainted with the rude life of frontier men and women: Claire Adams, called the greatest actress in the movies, a skilled horsewoman; Walter McGrath, who has prospected in Alaska; Fred Huntley, who has knocked all over the world and had a life of rich adventure; Pat Harrigan, Myrtle Owen and Charles Stevens.

The other feature for the last of the week is "The Selfmade Wife," a story of modern social life, with an all-star cast.

RIALTO THEATRE

Never has any picture come to Lowell with such an enviable reputation as "The Broken Violin," which opens its first local run at the Rialto Theatre today. "The Broken Violin" has established a name for breaking all previous business records held by theatres throughout the country.

In theatrical circles it is what is known as a "sure-fire" money-getter and local theatregoers will easily see the reason for this when they witness this picture that is creating such a sensation wherever it plays.

Contrary to what the title, "The Broken Violin," may suggest, it is not a "sad" or a "blue" picture by means. It is replete with thrills and dash. The story opens showing an old millionaire, who, realizing that his days are about over, starts a search for his son, whom he had disowned many years before on account of a marriage with a young girl violinist, a marriage which the old man bitterly opposed.

The son, however, is far away in the north woods, happily married, and with a beautiful child. He little realizes that he and his little family are being made heirs to a vast fortune. An unscrupulous secretary, and with the desire to get hold of the fortune, gets another man to pose as the son. Of course his plans ultimately fail, but not until many thrilling and exciting incidents take place. One of the hair-raising stunts shows a man jumping from a speeding aeroplane to a fast motor boat. The cast of "The Broken Violin" includes Dorothy Mac-Rail, former Polaris beauty, Gladden James, Zena Zeffe, Rodd Mowles and Rita Rogers, famous child actress who appeared in L. W. Griffith's "Orphans of the Storm."

The second feature, also new to Lowell, is "As a Man Lives," a story dealing with the Apaches in France and how a certain Apache, with the aid of modern plastic surgery, acquires a saintly face. The stars in this picture are Robert Frazer and Gladys Hulette.

The News and a good comedy are also included in the program.

Norman Kerry, who plays one of the leading roles in "The Acquittal," the big mystery drama now playing at The Strand, was more of a hero than patrons generally realize when he played the part he does. For Kerry was suffering intensely from blood poisoning caused by the bite of a wolf. He kept his bandaged hand concealed and acted his difficult role with his usual skill though suffering much from his hurt. "The Acquittal" is a great mystery story. Don't tell your neighbor how it is solved. "Sawdust," the circus story in which Gladys Walton appears, is also great entertainment.

H. E. KERRY'S THEATRE
There is the neat sum of $500 awaiting the person who can give a plausible explanation of how the black magic of Leah, Maid O'Slist, is carried out so successfully without injury to the fair lady who is tied inside the box. It is probably the most mysterious act of levitation ever witnessed here. It is the monotonous who looks very much like a corner of a circus performance. He is without doubt one of the funniest men ever seen on a local stage. The dancing, singing and comedy of Ellis and Walsh are pleasing and finished, and the guess of "Harrigan" the act of Kestman and Moore, strikes a responsive chord. Others on the bill are Mae Francis, singer, and Tyler and St. Clair, xylophonists. "Bull Dog Drummond" is the feature picture. It possesses punch.

"LISTEN TO ME"
It has been a long time since a musical extravaganza was produced—perhaps the one best remembered was the popular "Wizard of Oz." Then along came the tango and jazz craze. Producers fell in line with the public craving and accepted nothing in a musical score that did not provide to the theatre demand. But the tango and jazz had its day and gave way to musical revues, wherein the chorus danced to beautiful tunes with a waltz swing. Authors of today have offered the public another opportunity where they can look and listen once more to the one-time famous musical extravaganza with its fantastic story, "Honey-Comb" next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Wednesday matinee, or the World's "Humpty Dumpty" and "Babies in Toyland." Yet the modern ized versions have improved upon the old-time productions in wondrous stage settings, costly draperies of silks and satins, electrified novelties, and a gripping theme embodied with a score of entrancing melodies that were undreamed of in the olden days. "Listen to Me" embraces these modern ideas in its entirety with its gorgeous silk and satin draperies, scenery and costumes, and music that surpasses in splendor, novelties that excel each other in progress, lavish display of costumes, and music that is a feast for the eyes and ears. This musical extravaganza is coming to the Lowell Opera House next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Wednesday matinee, or the World's "Humpty Dumpty" and "Babies in Toyland." Yet the modern

PREDICTS EXTINCTION OF HORSE IN CENTURY

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (By the Associated Press)—The playbills of New York proclaim it one of the most cosmopolitan and most cultured cities in the world.

Three Hamlets hold the boards at the same time, John Barrymore, Walter Hampden and Sir John Maclure-Harvey. Ten plays of distinctly British origin or influence are being given, among them pieces by W. Somerset Maugham, John Galsworthy and Bernard Shaw. Historical plays concerning Queen Victoria and Robert B. Lee are as successful as popular farces. The talents of stars like Mrs. Fiske, Richard Mansfield, William Faversham and Cyril Maude are enlisted.

There are five French plays, one a famous classic, another by the most promising young dramatist in France. Two Spanish plays present scenes as of the histories of Casanova, the famous Italian bon-vivant, and of Don Quixote.

A play by Fernand Molnar leads the list of those from middle-Europe, which are others of the many South seas.

Eleanora Duse, beloved by many to be the late Sarah Bernhardt's only rival in modern times, heads an Italian company in Scandinavian, Italian and antique classics, while a Russian company from the Moscow Arts Theatre is presenting similar work. The Grand Guignol of Paris brings old fashioned thrills, while Swedish ballet companies with ultra-modern extraneous acts.

your health. They thrive in bad drinking water, in polluted soil, in foul air, unclean food, scratches and slight wounds, and through direct contact in what are called the catching and contagious diseases.

To steer clear of their attack, you must be on your guard all the time. Keep your teeth and mouth clean. The high-powered microscope will show you strange inhabitants. Bathe at least once a week, twice is better and once during some part of every 24 hours will do you no harm.

Choose your food for the best health-building values, within the limits of your purse, not for getting green vegetables, fruit, milk and its products. Keep your hands clean, when putting anything in your mouth. Avoid coughing, and sneezing in public.

Take fresh air and sunlight in large doses, at every opportunity. Do not let fatigue or other waste, accumulate on your premises, to invite contamination, flies or other vermin, which breed and spread germs.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and nearly per cent. of our readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

IN MEXICAN REVOLT

Revolutionary fires are smoldering in Mexico again. General Plutarco E. Calles (left), President Obregon's choice for his successor, is the center of contention. Calles, minister of interior in Obregon's cabinet, is regarded as semi-socialistic. He is a firm believer in the policy, "Mexico for Mexicans." Adolfo de la Huerta, formerly the other member of the "big three" in the Obregon administration, is leading the movement against Calles and Obregon. He is being aided by Flores Villareal and Raoni Madero (right). De la Huerta is considered friendly to foreign interests.

USE X-RAY PHOTOGRAPHS TO STUDY MUMMIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (By the Associated Press).—Pictures of mummies taken with the X-ray disclose conditions existing in the bodies of ancient Peruvians and Egyptians which otherwise would escape our knowledge; unwrapping the mummy means its destruction for purposes of accurate study. Such pictures have been taken by D. C. Davies, director of the Field

Piles

Can't Be Cured from the Outside External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.
The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method.
J. S. Leonard, M.D., set at work some years ago to find a real internal cure. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It's easy to take and can always be found at Green's drug store, where they will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

Museum of Natural History, co-operating with the Victor X-ray corporation.

These pictures revealed also what had been buried with the body. For instance, various Peruvian mummy packs, were found to contain corn, corn, pottery, vessels of clay containing shells, bits of metal, kourid vessels, beads, clay figures and cut bone objects.

Very serviceable and good-looking bathrobes are made of corduroy lined with self-colored silk.

DISEASE GERMS

Micro-organisms of any pathogenic bacteria cause vital disease of many kinds. The germs or bacteria which get into your system are the living plant agents which cause various kinds of poisons to attack and destroy your blood cells and tissue cells. Your ability or strength to ward off or resist these virulent germ poisons by hygienic living conditions, constitute your hold on health.

In other words, you are being attacked almost every minute of the day by these little germ bandits who try to enter your body and rob you of

That Hang-on Cough Must Go

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of all for the Cough that Sticks

Make It Yourself In Two Minutes

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this supremely excellent cough mixture yourself why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold in chest or head, or has acute catarrh, you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because in it there is a substance free cost for ordinary cough syrups that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poultice, and blessed relief comes at once.

And you should also bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes or kills, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal diseases.

Get Parment and get better.—Adv.

TO MAKE STUDY
OF COMMON COLDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(A.P.)—A detailed study of common colds is to be made by the public health service in cooperation with a number of the country's leading universities. Dr. Hugh S.

Cumming, surgeon general, says colds, influenza and similar conditions are responsible for a great deal of suffering, loss of time, disability and a not inconsiderable number of deaths.

He says there are few, if any, individuals who do not suffer from some acute respiratory condition at least once a year, losing from a day to week or more as a result, and some attacks develop into more serious conditions, at times even a latent pulmonary tuberculosis being lighted up.

Comparatively little is definitely known as to the real causes, distribution, manner of spread, and epidemiology of these so-called minor respiratory ailments, Dr. Cumming says, and this detailed study being undertaken, is expected to be of value in attempting to prevent these afflictions.

The work will be actively undertaken at Harvard university, Hopkins medical school, Georgetown and Howard universities, Washington, Tulane university, New Orleans, and state university, University of California.

MIDDLESEX NATIONAL BANK THRIFT CLUB

FAC-SIMILE OF THRIFT CLUB CHECKS

The wonderful growth of the Christmas saving plan, steadily supported by leading state and national banking institutions, public welfare organizations and other operating forces having to do with the prosperity of our country, is one of the most unique records in the history of innovations prepared to benefit all people and institutions of humanity at large.

One of the most remarkable records ever made by any banking institution in New England is just announced by the Middlesex National Bank, Merrimack and Palmer streets, member of the Federal Reserve system and under full supervision of the United States Government.

This banking house announces that on Saturday morning, December 15, 7,845 checks will be mailed to members of the Middlesex National Bank Thrift Club, as it is known.

These checks are the Christmas savings of depositors who placed their funds in the Middlesex National Bank during the past year, in small deposits as a rule, and who are now to receive the principal and interest of their savings for holiday shopping or gift-giving.

This is the seventh year of the Thrift Club plan at the Middlesex

National bank. The number of Christmas savings depositors during the first six years totaled 28,343. This year's number is 7,845, making a total for seven years of just 33,788 Thrift Club members living in Lowell and nearby towns.

Total funds distributed to Thrift Club members since the institution of the Middlesex plan amount to $1,549,912.00—an impressive figure for such a short period.

The banking institution's first Thrift Club started on December 1, 1916. The idea was new and the Middlesex bank was the first to adopt its important features, preferring the title "Thrift" to that of simply "savings."

It proved a happy word indeed—a word somewhat catchy, easy to remember and briefly and suitably covering the entire vocabulary referring to savings programs. The movement to save spread rapidly. Other banks took up the idea and with success.

The Middlesex National bank has led in number of depositors and amount of money distributed each year. It has been a record to be proud of and one that has come from constant endeavor to keep in close touch with patrons and the public at large by generous advertising, clear-cut statements of policies and special investment features and widespread promotion of the idea of saving and keeping on saving.

In 1916, the first Thrift Club year, 2,247 depositors placed funds in the Middlesex bank. The Christmas distribution totals amounting to $76,570.83. Seventy per cent of the Christmas clubs are located in the eastern part of the country and New England banks are numerous in the list.

The individual savings accounts vary greatly. Last year's summaries showed only moderate single depositor totals in a majority of cases, running from ten or twelve dollars to several hundred dollars.

The bank books taken out this season, 7,845 in all, show a range of savings from as low as $12.62 to as high as $1,010. The thriftiest of the lot, of course, was the depositor who saved enough to receive a check for more than one thousand dollars tomorrow night from the Middlesex National bank. The savings methods of this customer may never be revealed, but the Thrift Club's record speaks for itself.

"PIERRE OF THE PLAINS"

A backwoods drama of the great Canadian northwest, "Pierre of the Plains," is playing to big and appreciative audiences at the Lyceum Opera House this week. With seemingly just enough of the love theme, just enough mimicry and humor, and just the proper proportion of real drama the show is rated as the seasonal success by many regular patrons. Vic Browne is the calloused, hard-bitted, hard-hearted Pierre who reforms because of a love for a woman is the outstanding star of the play. Miss Hazel Corinne, delightful looking lady, has a difficult struggle in determining whether she really loves this hardened gambler or straight-forward Sgt. Reiding of the mounted police. In the end the gambler that she once despised is accepted as the future husband because of the determination he has shown to give up his bad habits and prove his worth. Malcolm McLean plays the part of the disappointed lover.

"BIG RED BALL" AT ROTARY DANCE

The "Big Red Ball" is going to be a surprise feature of the Rotary charity ball to be held at the Auditorium on the evening of December 28. What the "Big Red Ball" is only a few of the Rotary club ball committee know and they are as non-committal as a handful of elms. The general committee, headed by President Herbert E. Davis, met yesterday and spent nearly two hours in a discussion of plans. Maybe the identity of the "Big Red Ball" will be divulged next week, and then again it may be kept a dark secret until the night of the ball.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Prescott, 55 Liberty street, when Mr. Roswell A. Davis and Mrs. Ella Mae Emery were united in marriage by Rev. Everett C. Jackson, pastor of the Highland M. E. church. The bride was handsomely gowned in king blue brocaded chenille trimmed with broad silver cloth and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna A. Finn of Salem, wore black chiffon velvet trimmed with American beauty brocaded chenille and carried sweet peas. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was an aquamarine ring. The bridegroom's gift to his best man, councillor James F. Hennessey was a gold pocket knife. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served by the Harvey catering company. The house was prettily decorated with polka palms and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Davis who were the recipients of many costly gifts left on a motor trip to Florida where they intend to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be pleased to meet their friends in their summer home in Chelmsford after May 1, 1924.

Harold Dale, pastor of the Congregational church, who performed the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin trimmed with lace and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Miss Mary Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She wore pink georgette and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and roses. Mr. Eugene F. Frost, of Brookline, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and palms. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the couple followed by the serving of a buffet luncheon. FIRE IN CHELMSFORD

Fire discovered shortly before noon yesterday in the storeroom house of the Cushing company in Chelmsford Centre, threatened to engulf the building, spreading flames being fanned by a high gale of wind. Prompt discovery of the blaze, which was located directly in the rear of the Cushing offices, prevented a more serious fire. A blinding tar barrel was responsible for the alarm. The damage was slight.

LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT

Lowell Textile Unions to Be Represented at Labor Conference in New York

Lowell textile unions will be represented at an important conference on labor and employment problems of the present day, to be held in New York city next week, starting on Sunday, December 16, and arranged by the national executive board of the United Textile Workers of America.

John Hanley, of the local executive board of textile union operatives heading U. T. W. affairs in this section of New England, has been summoned with other executives of the Massachusetts-New Hampshire district. He will leave Lowell Saturday and expects to remain in New York until next week Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Mr. Hanley, who is also an active member of the national union executive council, is to present reports from this district, covering organization conditions, wages, hours of labor, condition of union treasuries, membership, programs, etc., and also reveal some of the physical conditions existing today

The textile conference will be held at the old familiar New York rallying headquarters, Bible House, President Thomas F. McMahon and other general officers will attend the daily sessions. They are said to be prepared to act for authority from the union's executive council to carry out plans for a strike or organization campaign in the south and "to decide when to proclaim the 48-hour-week in effect in that section of the country."

Mr. McMahon has informed council members that many southern workers have enlisted in the U. T. W. organization this year and are prepared to fight for 48-hours sooner than some of the southern mill-owners expect.

Mr. Hanley will be a member of the committee to draft final plans of campaign and this will closely follow suggestions just received from President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L.

Union organization recruiting efforts are to be centered for the present area North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, where much New England industrial capital has been invested in mill and employes' home sites, and where certain Lowell textile corporations have new operating establishments of elaborate size and quantitative production facilities.

At the New York meeting, the labor situation in Dover, N. H. will also be discussed and reports from all New Hampshire territories as well as the Lowell district, canvassed and acted upon. Vice-President James Starr, of the U. T. W., left New York city for Dover Wednesday night. He will act as President McMahon's representative in the present strike situation and will also act in one other Dover mill shut-down controversy.

The committee handling arrangements for an "open meeting" of the town-folk of Lowell and vicinity, expects to hold the demonstration on the night of Jan. 7 in a local hall. Programs are now being made ready and formal announcements of rally features will be issued later in the month.

BREAKFAST FOODS

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press)—England is to be introduced to breakfast foods in various forms of wheat. A company has been formed to make the breakfast foods from wheat grown in England. At present such breakfast foods are almost entirely imported from Canada with a small percentage coming from the United States.

BACK TO GREAT-GRANDMOTHER'S DAYS
Ohio farmers demanding "lower taxes and less legislation" have started caravans of old prairie schooners to Columbus and Washington from different parts of the state. Here is the first wagon getting on its way. It is ready to leave North Lima, near Youngstown, with Mrs. R. H. Byerly, lecturer of the Mahoning County Pomona Grange, holding the reins. She is dressed in the bonnet and hoop skirt her great-grandmother wore when she came to Ohio from Connecticut via covered wagon years ago.

JAPANESE MUSEUM TO BE REPLACED

TOKIO, Dec. 14.—(A.P.)—Baron Okura has announced that he intends to endeavor to replace the great museum which he presented to the nation some years ago, and which was destroyed in the fire following the earthquake.

The collection was one of the chief attractions to foreign visitors in Tokio and was of enormous value. Many of the relics cannot now be duplicated. A few were saved, having been removed to a fireproof warehouse as the fire approached. The collection cost Baron Okura about $5,000,000.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Cases of major, quarantinable diseases have gained access to this country within the year covered by the report.

Twenty-five hospitals are now operated by the public health service, including the National Leprosarium at Carville, La. Great advancement in the hospital standards of the public health service is noted. At the same time, there has been a reduction in the per-diem cost.

A novel feature of the present report is the section which deals with the use of radio for the dissemination of popular health information and the stimulation of a wider interest in general health matters.

The United States public health service was the first national health agency to utilize radio for this purpose. The beginning of its radio activities dates from July 13, 1921. The actual cost to the bureau for maintaining its radio information service has been insignificant.

TULSA ASSURED OF PLENTY OF WATER

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press).—A construction project designed to carry mountain water to Tulsa from a source 60 miles away in the Shawnee hills is today nearing completion.

A pipe line five feet in diameter will carry the fluid to a community of more than 100,000 people at the rate of 15,000,000 gallons a day. The building program, under way since January, 1922, constitutes one of the largest engineering projects in the United States. The new system, including a city storage reservoir for emergency supplies, will cost approximately $1,000,000 and is expected to be completed in the spring of 1924. It will give Tulsa its first hygienic drinking water.

The water will be brought to a low spot within five miles of the city by gravity, and from there pumped to a second reservoir on the highest of the hills surrounding Tulsa. The system will be one of the longest gravity pipe

No. 3—Opening the Wall

After all players have drawn hands

The previous articles carried us up to the point where the wall had been built, four-sided and solid. Now we will break it and start play. East Wind makes one throw of the two dice, totals the points so thrown, and starts counting counter-clockwise around the walls, commencing with his own. Thus, the East Wall is one; the South Wall two, the West Wall three, etc.

He stops when he has counted a number equal to the throw of the dice, and this is the wall to be opened.

GIRLS! EFFECT IS STARTLING

Moisten Your Hair Brush!
Hair becomes Beautiful

It simply amazes women to see plain flat, colorless or oily hair instantly appear soft, fluffy, lustrous and abundant.

Try it! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance—not greasy, oily or sticky.

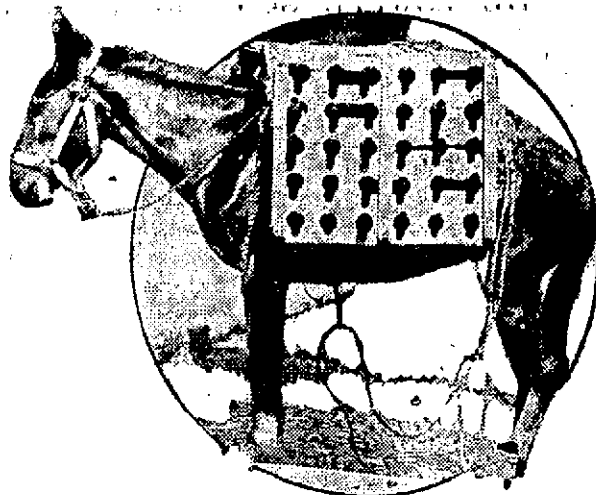

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.—Adv.

After playing a few evenings, the actual counting is elevated as you will learn from experience that East Wall is one, five or nine; South, two, six or ten; West, three, seven or eleven; and North, four, eight or twelve.

Throw Dice Again

Determination of the exact spot to be opened in the wall thus selected is made by another throw of the dice, this time by him whose wall is to be opened. He throws the two dice and the total of the throw is added to the total thrown by East in determining the wall to be opened. Thus if East threw six, the South Wall would be opened. If South threw five, the six thrown by East and the five thrown by South would be added, giving a total of 11.

Taking the latter number, he whose wall is to be opened starts counting from the right end of his wall, counts one on each pair of tiles to the left and removes that pair of tiles whose number corresponds to the determined number. In the example given above, it would be the eleventh pair of tiles from the right corner of South's wall. The two tiles thus removed are thereafter known as "loose tiles." They are placed face down side by side on top of the wall just to the right of the opening, the under tile being nearest the opening.

RIGHT TO YOUR DOOR

This is the way they deliver beer in La Paz, Bolivia. And in fact everything else, too. Streets are too hilly for trucks to negotiate. So all goods are carried on the backs of burros or pack mules.

The Draw

Now comes the draw. East starts by drawing four tiles (two pairs of two) from left of the opening. Then South takes the next four, West the next four, etc., until each hand contains 12 tiles. Then East draws one more, and so, in turn, do the other players. The draw is finished by East, who draws one extra. Thus each hand contains 13 tiles, except that of East, which contains 14.

Each player now arranges his hand by suits, dragons and winds, placing together all those of a kind.

Each player should see only his own hand. This can be accomplished by setting his tiles on end and near his own edge of the table, or by the use of racks.

The Mah Jongg racks are a contribution of American ingenuity. For 3000 years the Chinese played without accessories, but in one year Americans have added special tables, racks, pencils, score sheets, counter holders, table covers and doubling scales. The doubling scale is on the rack, and enables a player to determine his score at a glance rather than by the sometimes long process of multiplication and addition involved in scoring without racks.

CATECHIST OF KIL-ARNI AT AUDITORIUM SUNDAY

"The Catechist of Kil-Arni," a wonderful dramatization of missionary life, will be presented in the Memorial Auditorium next Sunday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. The film is not a bare exhibition of natural scenery, not a mere series of educational pictures. It is a lively, entertaining, intensely gripping story, presenting the trials and sorrows, joys and consolations of the missionary in the Far East.

An entire afternoon or evening's entertainment revealing a life that will lift your imagination out of the rush of an American day to a far-away land of lofty mountains and unbroken, sunburned plains, to an empire of 320,000,000 people in which many races jostle one another, in which 220 languages are spoken, in which the heroic missionaries of God are laboring to liberate souls from the bondage of paganism.

The afternoon performance Sunday will be for children, while the evening is reserved for adults.

From the leaf-sheaths of the "traveler's tree" of Madagascar a pure and cool supply of water is obtained.

Completion of Huge Hudson River Vehicular Tunnel Will Help Considerably

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (By the Associated Press).—Completion of the huge Hudson river vehicular tunnel, to connect the island of Manhattan with New Jersey, will add the 23d underground artery to the great network of subaqueous passageways that radiate from teeming New York and which are as necessary to its swarming life as are the arteries in a man's body.

The bridges are of a total approximate length of 11 miles and the tunnels and tubes each average about three-fourths of a mile. Combined they carry 84 railroad, subway, elevated and surface car tracks, spreading in all directions from Manhattan. In addition there are roadways for vehicular traffic on virtually all the bridges.

Leading all other underground passageways in size will be the new Hudson river vehicular tunnel, which is expected to be ready for use in 1926 at a cost of more than $30,000,000. Each of its twin tubes will measure 30 feet in diameter. It will be 9250 feet long and more than 3000 feet under the river. To carry off the poisonous exhaust gas from pleasure cars and trucks, a marvelous ventilating system is being installed.

OLD TIME OBSERVERS GOT ANSWER IN SKIES

PRAGUE, Dec. 14. (A. P.)—From time to time Prague gives up to some persistent deliver in records of the past that are not without interest. For it is an ancient city and its museums and bookshelves are filled with chronicles of what its people said and did in other centuries. A recent discovery is an old book on astronomy which shows that the men of that day spent no little time in endeavors to read what they called the "enigma of the ages," in other words, their woman-kind.

Based on the influence supposed to be exerted on humans by the constellation of the planets in the month in which they were born, this volume analyzes girls, according to the calendar, as follows:

A girl born in January is very likely to become a good housewife. She will incline to melancholy, but will have a gentle disposition. February girls will be good mothers, and faithful.

March maidens, however, will be inquisitive, contentious and quarrelsome, while April babies will grow up to be mercurial and unsteady women. May guarantees merry and good-tempered girls, while June gives them passionate and fiery temperaments, with an inclination to superciliousness. July produces the roses among women, according to this old sage; beautiful but thorny. Born a month later they are amiable and sensible, but rather keen for rich husbands.

Girls born in September are of fine susceptibilities and always ready to help others; they will, therefore, be welcomed everywhere, but should guard against being imposed upon by selfish people. October favors the earth with creatures who surpass all others of the sex as to depth and ardor of love.

Women born in November are kind-hearted and friendly; if they are not it is always the fault of somebody else, never their own. The last month of the year brings forth racy and very good-looking girls. Unfortunately they cannot be recommended to earnest men, for they are very extravagant and all ways on the hunt for sensations.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL Ferdinando's celebrated orchestra, playing all the latest dance music, will be the attraction at Associate hall tonight. As a special feature Mr. Ferdinando and Miss Marie Rascel of the Spanish dance. Special electric effects will add to the beauty and charm of this well known specialty. Miss Rascel has been prominent in vaudeville circles and has distinguished herself among the foremost solo dancers on the stage. This orchestra, combined with the dancing numbers, should prove to be a great drawing card and no doubt a large crowd will avail itself of the opportunity to enjoy a pleasant evening. Saturday night there will be a battle of music between Mal Hallett's orchestra and Minerva's troupe.

FOR NEW COURT BUILDING

We believe that Representative Thomas J. Corbett has taken the right step in planning to present to the legislature a bill authorizing the county commission to borrow a sum not exceeding $400,000 for the erection of a district court building in this city.

There can be no question as to the great need of such a building nor as to Lowell's right to such consideration on the part of the county. As Mr. Corbett shows, Lowell pays one-fifteenth of the total tax collected by the county in the course of the year and has, therefore, a right to have a county building for the local district court. The city of Malden, which pays only five per cent. of the county tax levy, has been provided with a very fine district court building of which Lowell pays 15 per cent. of the cost. Of course, the county cannot meet the necessities for court buildings in all the cities at once; but it is high time that the needs of Lowell should receive due attention.

The present quarters rented from the city of Lowell in the Market street building for the district court are not at all what they should be. In case Mr. Corbett's bill becomes law and a county building be erected here, then the city can more conveniently remodel the old building or erect a new one on its site. The location is very convenient and desirable for the police station. If the county gives us a district court building, the city could well afford to erect a new and up-to-date police station on the site of the old Market street structure.

This is a project that should receive the cordial backing of the members of the general court from Lowell and vicinity.

MAYOR-ELECT ROCHEFORT

Mayor-elect Walter T. Rochefort of Lawrence won his popularity through his devoted and disinterested service in the school board. His character in this respect was well tested in one very significant incident. In Lawrence, as in other cities, the school department has made it a rule that the high school hall shall not be let for paid entertainments without charge. The collection club of Lawrence, of which Mrs. Rochefort is a member, asked for the use of the high school hall for an entertainment for the purpose of raising funds to provide a scholarship by which the club could send some poor Lawrence girl to college. Mr. Rochefort voted against suspension of the rule, and the ground that it would establish a precedent that would lead to abuses in the future.

The people of Lawrence admired Mr. Rochefort's adherence to principle and his fidelity to what he believed to be right even though his wife was a petitioner for the free use of the hall.

It was a number of incidents of this character that led the people of Lawrence to place such high confidence in Attorney Rochefort that they elected him mayor by a substantial majority over a popular candidate. The Lawrence Tribune, speaking of Attorney Rochefort, pays him the following tribute:

Walter T. Rochefort is a rarity in politics. One does not often meet his kind in public life. It is in the nature of a really refreshing change from the general run of municipal officials. One never needs to worry concerning his stand in a matter. As a member of the school committee if a thing was good for Lawrence and its schools, he was for it. If it was not good, he was against it—said so plainly and fearlessly, no matter how friendly or influential might be the parties favoring it.

In spite of the fact that the electorate of such cities as Lawrence and Lowell are often criticized for showing poor judgment in the selection of public officials, yet it rarely happens that they fail to show appreciation of a candidate who has shown real devotion and disinterestedness to the public service unless they are confused and misled by the counter claims of other less worthy candidates.

ABOLISH GAG RULES

The republican insurgents in congress are determined to secure a change in the rules which in the past permitted committee chairmen to throttle legislative measures, however desirable or necessary and prevent them from coming before either branch of congress. As a result of such rules congress for some years past has not been a deliberative body. If the insurgents have induced the republican majority to agree to modification of the rules so that any member can bring a bill before the house for discussion, they will have accomplished something worth while, something that will benefit all parties and the country at large as it will remove the spirit of autocracy that has been entrenched in high places in congress of late.

It is high time to abolish such rules. They have been a detriment and an obstacle to our government in giving the politicians supreme power over the course of legislation.

IMMIGRATION AND LABOR

We are told that an investigation of migration and labor supply has been begun by the national bureau of economic research council. Outlining the bureau's purpose in the undertaking, a supervising official states that there are today few public questions on which men now differ more sharply than on the wisdom of maintaining, relaxing or abolishing the present restrictions upon immigration into the United States. Light is expected to be shed by the coming investigation on such questions as these:

To what degree and how promptly does immigration respond to an industrial boom or contraction in a depression?

Have fluctuations in migration been so timed that they have increased or decreased the intensity of the upward swing of the cycle?

Has the increase of immigration in periods of activity tended to prolong these periods by moderating the increase of labor costs per unit of output?

SEEN AND HEARD

The high cost of Santa Claus is worth it.

With the exception of that "Yes, No" song 1923 goes down in history as a success.

About 4,000,000 autos were made this year. They are new, but walkers they are second hand.

"America, you are getting us?" came by radio from Europe. Yes, that seems to be the trouble.

Christmas tip by "Doc" Bartlett: Let your whiskers grow. Rub in a little hair tonic on them daily. They will cover up Christmas neckties.

A Thought

The miser, poor fool, not only starves his body, but also his own soul. Theodore Parker.

He Was Well Off

Overhead in the locker room of the Lowell Golf club a day or two ago: Voice behind a row of lockers—"What time did you get in this morning, Bill?" "It was 3 o'clock, and go with me, wife was certainly sore at me!" "She wouldn't talk to me and hasn't even spoken to me since!" "Voice from other end of room—"How would you like to trade her for one who would talk to you when you get in at 3 in the morning?"—Detroit News.

Soft For the Boss

A man whose job it was to break a huge piece of rock kept hammering at it without result. The foreman watched him for a while and got impatient. "Hey, you," he said at last, "you've been tapping that rock for half an hour. Give me your sledge." With one mighty blow the foreman struck the hammer and split it in two. "There you are," he said; "see how easy it is." "Why shouldn't it be?" replied the other, "after I made it soft for you!"

Scheme Didn't Work

Mr. Hubert called on his physician, outlined some vague symptoms and then came craftily to the point. "Doc, I need a prescription you know." "No," responded the doctor, firmly. "I don't know. Alcohol would do you no good, and you get none of it from me." On his way out Mr. Hubert fired a parting shot. "You may be a good doctor, but you're a damned poor business man." "Why do you say that?" "Don't you know the customer is always right?" Nevertheless he went away without a prescription.

Admirable Speech

Hitherto the proceedings of the Philippine legislature have been in Tagalog or in Spanish, although English is technically the official language. But the last election returned to the legislature a number of young men educated in English schools in the Philippines or in the United States. They are intent upon breaking up the older generation of Filipino public men, who received their early education under the Spanish regime. There has been quite a revolution in the gallery of the house recently when English was used for the first time in debate. The speech was admirable in point of brevity and can be reported in full. It was addressed by one of the members to a colleague on the floor, and was: "Sit down, boy!"

The Last Question

The great meeting for the discussion of women's rights and wrongs had gone cheerily along its way to a successful conclusion. Votes of thanks had been proposed by everybody to everybody else and at last "Mr. Chairman, in order to ask if anybody in the audience would like to put any questions," she announced, "and I shall be only too glad to answer them." There was silence for a moment and the chairman was preparing to leave the platform when a smartly dressed woman arose at the back of the hall and should like to put a question. "Certainly," answered the chairman. "What is it?" "I should like to know," Mrs. Chairman, where you got that beautiful silk from which your dress is made?"

Can You Answer?

Years ago the compiler of "Bookman's Almanac" lived in New Haven. The white tall hat which he wore made him a conspicuous figure, and this portrait in this white hat adorned the "Almanac's" front cover. It is from this publication that a reader has selected the following rhyme under the question, "Can you answer?" Where can a man buy a cap for his knee? Or a key to the lock of his hair? Can his eyes be called an academy? Because there are pupils there? In the crown of his head? What came are found? Who travels the bridge to his nose? Can he use when shivering the roof of his house? The nails on the end of his toes? Can the roof of his elbow be sent to jail? If so, what did he do? How does he sharpen his shoulder blades? Will he be landed if I know, do you? Can he sit in the shade of the palm of his hand? Or beat on the drum of his ear? Does the roof of his leg eat the corn on his toe? If so, who can grow corn on the ear?

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

For some unknown reason, many people in the city seem to think that there is an added prestige in owning a coat bought in some other town than Lowell, or particularly at this time of year, in giving presents in a box with the stamp of a firm from some town like Boston stamped on the cover. I have seen many of my personal friends make purchases in this way and then some time later see the same articles and brands of goods on display in a Lowell store for a much lower price, without comparing the cost of travel to the outside point. But these folks are the ones who never learn and the next time they are shopping they hop a train and go elsewhere once more.

While recognizing the great good that would be done by passing French street to Boston and thus taking much traffic away from the square, there is an objection that has been overlooked in the plans. This is the effect that such traffic would have on the high school which is at present in a more or less secluded and quiet corner of the city where there is no banking of money and other trades to attract the scholars' attention. Furthermore, French street has made an ideal outdoor drill ground for the school regiments, in which they could receive their instruction without interfering with the scholars and would be very much to the possibility. This condition would be ended if the proposed plan is carried through.

HELD CHRISTMAS FAIR AND PARISH SUPPER

The annual Christmas fair followed by a parish supper was held in St. John's church yesterday afternoon and evening, with a wealth of suitable Christmas gifts displayed on the festively decorated tables. For the serving of the supper the tables were appropriately dressed with scarlet polka-dot and evergreen boughs and red candles in gold candlesticks.

The committees and workers in charge of the fair were as follows: Dining room, Mrs. John Pahn, chairman; Mrs. Fred W. Noyes, Mrs. A. E. Moore, Mrs. Thos. Moore, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. George Page and Mrs. Nelder. With their exhibits of toys and other Christmas gifts are attracting throngs of children these days, who are excited over the prospect of the near closing of the golden old Santa. It is time well spent to stop and listen to the exchange of ideas and wishes among these tots, with their suggestion of the days gone by when the listener, too, used to go window shopping before the 25th of the month.

Novel and interesting is the trip which is being made by successive stages by five Lowell people. Starting at the Merrimack river, near the point where the old Middlesex canal ended, they are following the course of that ancient waterway through Billerica, Wilmington and Woburn to see the traces which still remain to mark the spots and scenes through which at one time canal boats did a flourishing business. Many more than would be expected are the old vestiges which still remain open and of sufficient depth to leave little doubt that it is part of the old canal. The stretch in Woburn along the railway tracks everyone is familiar with, but it is not generally known that there is a place between Silver Lake and this city where there are sections of just as great size still intact. The people making the trip are Edward R. Carney and Mrs. Carney, Charles H. Hobson, Frederick Chase and Mrs. Chase.

It is not, perhaps, known that the present Christmas seals which are now being sold, have no connection whatever with the Red Cross. The proceeds of this sale are donated to the National Tuberculosis association for aid in the prevention of that disease. Although there is a cordial cooperation between the two organizations, and although the seal sale is supposed to follow the close of the annual Red Cross roll call for enrollment of members, the Red Cross does not issue and has no connection with the Christmas seals. Members of the Red Cross are at liberty, however, to aid in the disposal of these seals, but the organization has no financial interest in the anti-tuberculosis movement.

PUBLICATION OF "JUNIOR CITIZEN" POSTPONED

No press-run troubles, no "strikes," no cold ink blurs of the printed page were responsible for today's non-appearance of "The Junior Citizen," the long-heralded new publication that was to present to public patronage some full-throated fruits of numerous debt and laborious children of the Charles W. Morey school. Pine and Wilder streets. Bluntly, "The Junior Citizen" did not leap into the crowding news channels of Lowell today, but there was a good reason, cheerfully explained by the genial, hard-working Morey school principal, Mr. William W. Denner.

Not all of the splendid essays and bits of quaint, self-composed offerings from the school boys and girls, reached the publishing offices in season to be "made up" for this December number—the first and only one still in perspective. Principal Denner felt that the pupils' offerings could not be published to the public that would be indicative of modern scholastic productions along similar lines, therefore until all contributions are in and the "make-up" of the new school magazine is fully decided upon, there will be no "Junior Citizen" for fathers and mothers of Morey school children to read and gloat over until about a week from today.

ANNUAL ADVICE

Shop for Christmas early,
Get upon the job,
Duck the hurly-burly
Of the surging mob.
In that final senry
Shopping is a row,
Rid yourself of worry—
Do it now!

Shop for Christmas early.
Save the hurried clerk
(Be it lad or girlie)
From much overwork;
Wait not till they're dropping
With fatigue—allow
Time for Christmas shopping—
Do it now!

Season after season,
Year on year on year,
I have sung with reason
What I'm singing here.
Dodge the hurly-burly,
I can tell you how,
SHOP FOR CHRISTMAS EARLY—
DO IT NOW!

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Something must be done to lessen the air jam! That's what radio experts say. A group called on President Coolidge urging him to ask Secretary Hoover to call a conference, the purpose of which would be to formulate new wave lengths for commercial transmission so as not to interfere with broadcasting of entertainment. Coolidge approved the proposed conference. Left to right: Walter Howey, newspaperman; George Burghard, president of the Radio Club of America; John Hogan, radio engineer; John Shapard of Boston, and Paul Godley, radio engineer.

SOUVENIR DINNER AND DANCE BY AD CLUB

What promises to be a most pretentious affair is the annual souvenir dinner and dance by the Lowell Advertising Club New Year's eve, Dec. 31, at the Memorial Auditorium. This will be the second souvenir dinner and dance by this live Lowell organization of boosters. Those who attended last year's affair will long remember it and from all indications this year's event will surpass last year's success. Over 300 tickets have been already reserved and taken for this dinner and the committee feels certain that the allotted number, 400, will be gone very soon. Ad club members have responded quickly for tickets as such a wonderful time was held last year and so many people were unable to get tickets for the dinner that those who were there and those who were left "out in the cold" were right on the job this year for tickets.

It was announced today that the club has been fortunate in securing as principal speaker, a man who has a national reputation as an after-dinner speaker, Professor Austin H. MacCormick of Bowdoin college, Brunswick.

Me. At the recent convention of the County, advisory chairman; reception, New Advertising clubs held in Portland, Me., Mr. MacCormick delighted his hearers with a bright, breezy, interesting, humorous discourse on "Advertising." He will give a real up-to-the-minute talk on "Advertising" at the coming dinner. In addition a fine musical program has been arranged, many new stunts and surprises planned, dancing to an augmented orchestra. In fact, everything is being done to make the "Souvenir" Dinner of the Lowell Advertising Club, 1923-24, one long to be remembered. The committee in charge of the dinner follows:

Frank Ricard, chairman; Edward J. Cooney, advisory chairman; reception, Roger Gage, John M. Geary, Cornelius Connelly, Harry Betts, Edward W. Gallagher, John J. Moloney, Charles J. Hayes, Walter C. Bruce, George H. Wood; souvenirs from local merchants and local manufacturers, George Runnels, chairman; Dr. Sweetser, assistant; decorations, Sam Lemieux, Frank H. Haines, Arthur Leville, Bon Marche, Lowell Decorating Co., A. G. Pollard; entertainment, Frank Ricard, chairman; E. J. Cooney, advisory chairman; Edward McGilly, treasurer; Irene Mathews, secretary.

Billy Evans SAYS

The college makes the football player for more of a national prominence. This truth is proved each fall when the experts start making their annual All-American selections. The name of Billy Evans is in the United States of America. Evans is a football player who has been mentioned in the press more than any other player in the country. He is a star in the college game and is expected to be a star in the professional game.

Under such existing conditions it is only natural that many a college football player is looked upon as a small child. Evans is the star who gets the most of the headlines.

One of the best quarterbacks of the Yale team is Billy Evans. He is the best quarterback that Yale has ever had. He is a star in the college game and is expected to be a star in the professional game.

PREPARING FOR THE TRACK SEASON

Early next week the seats in the bleachers at the high school and will be marked off and numbered in preparation for the track season, which will start soon after Christmas. The general admission will be 25 cents and will be sold at the door. It is planned by Faculty Manager James Conway this year to reserve one side of the hall for the pupils of the school, and leave the rest of the seats for older persons who attend.

SPORTING TOURNAMENT

A sporting tournament was held at the hall of St. Anne's church in Lawrence last night, with a large attendance of C.M.A.C. members. The tournament included basketball, pool, lacrosse and other activities. The event was a success and the St. Anne's will have a return visit to the C.M.A.C. rooms.

MELLO ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY TO HIS LIST

Al Mello, Lowell's sensational amateur boxer, added another victory to his list of triumphs last night when he defeated Martin Corbett of Lynn in a special number at the Buffalo club show.

FOOTBALL SEASON ISN'T OVER YET

As evidence of that fact, the announcement reaches the city that the St. Patrick's Cadets, one of the best football teams of the season, will meet the Lawrence All-Stars on the North common next Sunday afternoon. The St. Patrick's have been practicing all week in anticipation of this game and are in the best of condition to meet their opponents.

RITCHIE CAN'T GET FAR IN "COMEBACK"

BY JOE WILLIAMS
While Ritchie is going to try a "comeback" this is interesting rather than important. Ritchie, once holder of the lightweight championship, tried one comeback in 1919 and failed after a game, spirited battle against Benny Leonard. If he persists, Ritchie will fail again this time, only quicker and with less attendant fireworks.

However, the fans shouldn't begrudge him a stray purse here and there. The California boy was a gallant fighter in his day, not a great one, perhaps, but game and colorful in action. He won the title from a little savior in beating Al Wollast, and he shipped the tough eggs that flourished a decade ago.

Few fighters will ever be able to point to a more meteoric career. Ritchie went to bed one night an unheard-of fourth-rater and awoke the next day a championship prospect. A last-minute substitute for Al Wollast, who had been stricken with appendicitis, Ritchie took on the great Freddie Welsh in a 20-round battle and gave him the fight of his sweet young life.

Ritchie floored the Britisher in the eleventh round and had him rushing away in the last three rounds. Due to John O'Connor, who he referred to as "his mainstay," and concluded by counseling the members of the team to be proud of their glorious achievement. At the conclusion of Fr. Sullivan's remarks, Eddie Donohue was introduced by Fr. Sullivan, and in his characteristic style, rendered two catchy solos. He was rapidly accompanied by Fr. Sullivan, who also obliged with a piano solo.

Just as Fr. Sullivan was about to begin the program, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, who was the next contributor to the speaking program, and saying in part: "The Cadets but have no more teams to conquer, but next year they will go forth and repeat this season's performance. I congratulate you on your clean sportsmanship and I ask you to stick together, for in union there is strength."

Frank Ricard, donor of the cup emblem of the Cadet 12 to 7 victory over the Butlers on Columbus day, in commenting on that game, said it was one of the best athletic contests he had ever witnessed. His reminiscences of student days with Fr. Sullivan were interestingly concluded by presenting the team, beautifully equipped with the names of Fr. Sullivan, Brother Herman and the entire personnel of the team, to the chairman, who responded in appropriate terms.

"The O.M.I. Cadets have three of the greatest assets I have ever seen in a football team," said Fr. Sullivan, "they have teamwork, cooperation and do not interfere with the officials of the game. Three attributes which make for success in any branch of activity." But then, acquiescing to the wishes of the gathering and recounting his experience on the baseball field, and his endless repertoire of diamond anecdotes were enthusiastically received.

Among the other speakers were Capt. Daniel O'Connor, John O'Connor, Eugene Davison, Arthur Lemaine, John Murphy, James Tappin, James McKinstry, James Curran, all members of the team, George H. Keefe, of the Evening Leader, Thomas F. McSorley, of The Sun, and Francis Guggan, military instructor of the Cadet regiment. The latter requested Fr. Sullivan to lead in paying respect to the memory of the late George Bushy, a star on the 1922 team, who was killed last summer and the gathering responded by rising and offering a request for the former wearer of the blue and white colors of a real championship team.

BATTLING McCREARY COMPLETELY OUTCLASSES JACK THOMPSON

Bout Resembles Workout of Baseball Battery, With McCreary the Pitcher and Thompson the Catcher—Frankie Hebert Beats "Babe" Adams in Feature Number

Jack Thompson of St. Joe, Mo., served as a punching bag for Battling McCreary of Boston for six rounds in the final event of the steady club show in Crescent rink last night. A third point referee Jerry Moore of Lowell wisely intervened and halted activities and declared McCreary the winner.

The bout was disappointing. It was more like a workout of a baseball battery than a fight, with McCreary serving as the pitcher and Thompson, the catcher. McCreary threw every kind of a punch known to pugilism and Thompson caught every one of them. As a fighter, Thompson was a good African dodger. He seemed almost superhuman, the way he took vicious socks on the jaw and in the midriff. Once he dropped his hands and invited McCreary to punch his midriff, McCreary let go a terrible swing, throwing every ounce of weight and energy into the delivery. The blow, and Thompson flinched, but he never budged. McCreary looked good. He tried hard to make it a fight. He utilized his heavier opponent and he shot protections at him and to him from every conceivable angle, but the attack seemed to take more out of McCreary than Thompson. He was almost exhausted from hitting the big fellow. Once he tipped Thompson to the floor, but this only launched him again to receive another fusillade of blows.

Thompson attained his reputation as a sparring partner for Champion Jack Dempsey. He showed absolutely no skill as a boxer but he did show championship assimulative powers. No doubt he proved a great target for Champion Jack.

At the outset of last night's fare, fans roared at Thompson's strange attitude and the way he shook off McCreary's punches like a duck sheds water, but as the rounds were told and the battering continued incessantly the bout became a monotonous repetition and recalled the spectacle of a man taking candy from a baby, and all were pleased when the referee intervened.

It was the first heavyweight fight here in years, and Don Dodge says it will be the last for as many years. The semi-final and the preliminary, however, were all to the merry. Particularly classy was the eight-round battle between Frankie Hebert of Lowell and Babe Adams of Lawrence. Hebert, who was brought to the ring by a whirlwind exhibition of fighting, the Lowell midge, proved a revelation. He boxed and fought like a top-midger and gave the clever Lawrence champion quite a licking. Adams is a good boy and while he held his own in the early part of the fighting, he was outclassed in the closing rounds. Hebert's high class work made a great hit with the fans and many predict a bright future for him within the squared circle.

The first preliminary was short and sweet, with Johnny Grove of Nashua stopping Tommy McCarthy of Lowell in two rounds. The other preliminary brought Tommy Leonard of Lowell and Johnny McBride of Lawrence together for the second time. In the former meeting Leonard won in the opinion of all but the judges. Last night he continued the success of his superiority and landed on the ropes. It was a pepper number with both boys working hard and earnestly all the way. The score now stands one and one.

It was announced that Lew Palace of Salt Lake City and Jerry Fox, English featherweight, will meet in the main event next week. The announcement was enthusiastically received.

Critics who have seen Vincentelli rate him as one of the hardest hitters the 135 pound class has developed in years. Shugrue has seen little action since he triumphed about a year ago over Elmo Flores, rugged Filipino light-heavyweight.

O'CONNELL FAILS TO SHOW
It is beginning to look as if the New York Giants drew a lesson in Jimmy O'Connell, the $75,000 beauty from the coast. National league pitchers claim that if pitched to properly he will never break any world records. In the field, O'Connell has always been a rather feeble sister.

NEW STADIUMS COSTLY
While the new football stadiums are wonderful if filled several times during the season, they become quite a burden if the eleven has a bad year and fails to draw. The new stadiums have caused each college possessing one to try to book at least three worth while games at home. Good attractions are necessary to fill the stadiums.

CHILEAN CHAMPION TO BOX SHUGRUE
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Luis Vincentelli, latest pugilistic sensation sent forth by South America, will meet his biggest test so far, when he battles Johnny Shugrue of Waterbury, Conn., in a 12-round match tonight at Madison Square Garden.

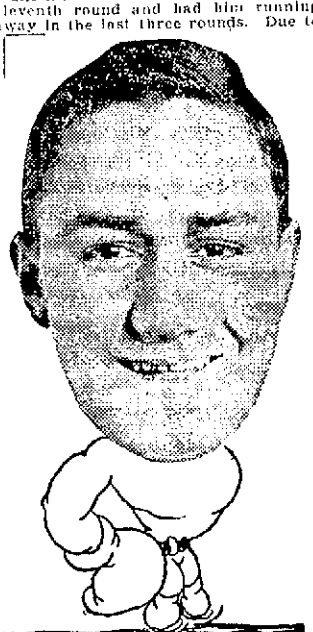

Vicentelli, who holds the Chilean lightweight title, has knocked out three opponents in a row since coming to the United States in September and gained a prominence by signing an agreement with Tex Rickard for three fights, the last to be with Benny Leonard, light-heavyweight champion, next summer. If the South American could box his upward climb, the first of these contract fights is with Shugrue, a referee of unquestioned integrity and fairness, totaled his points and announced that Welsh had won the fight and the championship by half a point, the narrowest margin by which a title ever changed hands.

A fight that close in America would be called a draw, regardless of the rules under which it was fought.

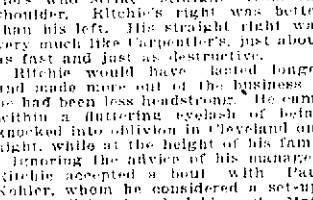

At the end of the fight, Eugene Corri,

KILLING OF WOMAN IS MYSTERY

By N.E.A. Service
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 13.—Another mysterious murder is added to this city's list of unsolved crimes. Kidnaped by an assailant who took her away in an automobile, Mrs. Helen Wheeler, 27, was murdered early the morning of November 25. Her body was found between the railroad tracks under a bridge near the city's outskirts, by railroad workmen.

Mrs. Wheeler, a widow, left her father's home early in the evening preceding the murder. Shortly after midnight a loud scream was heard in a street near her home.

A neighbor looked from his window and saw a man driving a touring car away. He held one hand on the wheel and the other, the witness said, held some other person.

The woman's hat was found in front of the witness' house, on the left, above the spot where her body was found, police picked up a broken strand of pearls. Nearby was the wheel track of an automobile, turned toward the guard rail of the bridge. Those, and a few footprints, are the only clues.

MEETING AT THE BARTLETT SCHOOL

The regular monthly meeting and social of the Parent-Teacher association at the Bartlett school, was held last evening in the main assembly hall, with a large attendance of fathers and mothers who came to visit the place where their children are taught, and the teachers who instruct them.

There were three booths located outside the hall at which members of the literary club, the art club, and the school girl scouts presided and sold articles of their own making such as candy, flowers of cloth and small things suitable for Christmas.

Preceding the main program and at its finish, the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Mary L. Wallace gave several musical selections. The girls of the Junior high school were represented by their glee club under the leadership of Miss Amy Tucke, and with Miss Mary Wallace accompanying. The third grade pupils put on a calisthenic drill after which Miss Helen Halburn entertained with a solo dance.

The concluding event of the program was James E. Donnelly, who sang several selections.

After the entertainment a social hour was enjoyed in the lower part of the school, with all the classrooms thrown open in order that the parents might see the places where their children received instruction.

MOTORCYCLE REGISTRATION

Motorcycle owners will be able to secure 1924 registration plates from the local office of the registry of motor vehicle in the Monegan building within a few days, according to Chief Clerk Charles McDermott. A number of these plates are on their way to Lowell and as soon as they are received it will be possible to grant registrations to this class of motor vehicle owners.

MRS. ORA BELLE TOMPKINS

E. RAY TOMPKINS

A shallow grave in a swamp at Donkey bay, north of Milwaukee, Wis., has given up its secret. From it authorities removed the decapitated body of Mrs. Ora Belle Tompkins (left). Her husband, E. Ray Tompkins (right), wealthy real estate operator and former normal school instructor, has confessed to the murder, according to police. One of his former pupils was arrested and questioned on another charge, growing out of her alleged associations with Tompkins. She later was released on bail.

LYNCH STRONG AT 122

When Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, knocked out Eddie Coulon of New Orleans in the third round recently, he weighed 122 pounds, the old featherweight limit. At this weight Lynch looked great and fought in old-time form. Whether he will continue to look great when he scales it at the bantamweight limit is another thing.

BAZAAR OPENS AT Y.W.C.A. BUILDING

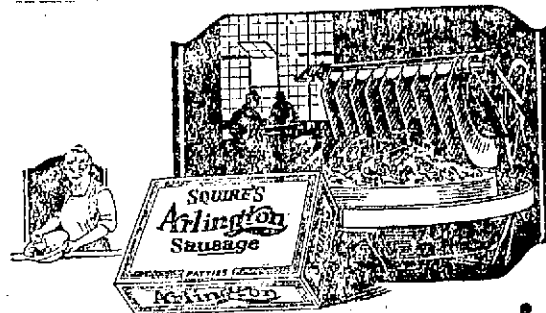

A two-day bazaar under the auspices of the High School Girl Reserves was opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the downstairs living room at the Y.W.C.A. building in John street. A fine assortment of dairy articles of wax, and Christmas gifts were put on sale and the tables, arrayed in holiday attire were well patronized. An orchestra composed of girls from the Junior High club furnished music this afternoon and will also give their services tomorrow afternoon. The proceeds of this sale will be donated to the Girl Reserve mid-winter conference. Last year the conference was held in Greenwich, Conn. with over 350 girls present representing more than 20 New England associations. Out of the large representation the Lowell girls won the silver loving cup and are equally anxious to win the prize again this year.

NON-SINGING SHORTSTOP

Something New! Arlington Sausage Patties

Have you ever wished you could get good sausage patties? Many a New England housewife has asked for Arlington Sausage in meat form like the sausage mother used to make. You will like the new Arlington Sausage Patties.

Remember how mother used to mix the choice lean cuts of fresh pork with savory spices in a wooden bowl, and chop them together? Arlington Sausage is as mother used to make it—chopped, not ground! If any other method would improve sausage, then the Arlington would be made that way.

measure freed, because of motor power, from the labors that made them beasts of burden, were increasing rather than diminishing in number. But now comes Professor E. L. Purling, curator of the vertebrate collection at the University of California, with the prediction that the horse will be virtually extinct on the American continent in another century.

Professor Purling is so confident of his supposition that he has started for posterity a collection of all modern specimens of the equine family. His collection will rest in the museum of paleontology, along with the bones of the three-toed horse and other prehistoric kin.

Recalling the dominating position of motor conveyances in the cities, Professor Purling adds: "Daily the tractor and the automobile are taking the place of the horse in rural life. As the usefulness of the horse passes, so will the necessity for his existence. Before many years the use of a horse for the purposes with which he has been identified since time immemorial will be a curiosity. In another hundred years you may find horses in zoos. I am sure you will not find them anywhere else."

TELEPHONE COMPANY TO DISPLAY FLAGS

For the purpose of emphasizing the slogan of the Bell system, "One Policy, One System, Universal Service," nearly 150 Bell system flags, bearing the Bell seal on a dark blue background, will be displayed in a few days on all the buildings owned and leased by the New England Telephone & Telegraph company. National flags for such buildings were provided some years ago.

Similar action has been taken by all of the telephone companies associated in the Bell system throughout the United States. These flags are of various sizes. The national flag will be displayed upon all suitable occasions of national or state importance, and the Bell system flag especially on an-iversaries that mark the progress of the telephone industry since the telephone principle was discovered in Boston on June 2, 1875, and upon occasions of local significance. These anniversary dates are:

Jan. 25, marking the opening of the transcontinental line between New York and San Francisco in 1915; Feb. 28, organization of the American Telephone & Telegraph company in 1885; March 10, the first complete, intelligible sentence transmitted by telephone in 1876; April 11, opening of the Key West-Havana submarine telephone cable in 1921; May 8, opening the New York-Denver toll line in 1911; June 2, invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell in 1875; July 18, birthday of Theodore N. Vall, who was born in 1845; Aug. 27, transmission of speech by radio from Arlington, Va., to Panama in 1915; Sept. 29, speech transmitted by radio from New York to Mars Island, California, in 1915; Oct. 18, organization of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company in 1883; Nov. 2, organization of the Telephone Pioneers of America in Boston, 1911; Dec. 31, opening of the Boston-Philadelphia line in 1884.

MEN!

A SENSATIONAL EVENT!

Here Is the Story:

This has been a dull season for clothing manufacturers.

Many of them are stuck with huge stocks.

Several of these manufacturers wanted to unload quickly by selling direct to the public at less than wholesale prices.

Instead of selling direct from their factories, they asked us if they could use our stores as an outlet.

We agreed under two conditions—First, every garment must be all wool and of the latest style.

Second—The retail price to the public must be less than the wholesale manufacturing price.

They agreed to these conditions, and as a result we are now starting the most sensational event in men's clothing you have ever witnessed.

What's more, we have inspected these garments and have O.K.'d them all. In fact, every one is guaranteed by us—Monroe Clothes Shops—which means money back if not satisfied!

Take our advice, men, and come early!

Observance of "Presidents' Night" by Rotarians in Liberty Hall

"Presidents' Night" was observed by the members of the Lowell Rotary club last evening in the form of a novelty dinner which was served in Liberty hall, at the Auditorium. There was a table for each of the four presidents that the club has had since its inception, and at each of these tables sat the men who had been presidents of the club during that particular administration. Very little business was presented to distract from the pleasure of the evening, which was designed solely to give the Rotarians a chance to see the past presidents in action once more.

After the meal had been served, Mr. Davis announced that each president should once more have a chance to handle the meeting and show the manner in which the club had been run while he was at its head. First on the list was Harry C. Pollard, and he had the members at his table introduce each other, with many poetic selections and good-natured jollity. Then in turn R. W. Thompson and R. Hutchins Parker assumed charge of the gavel and in turn each contributed some original means of entertaining the others present. From ex-President Parker's table, Allan Pumas presented a one-act skit in which he assumed all three characters, and which was greeted with howls of delight from his audience.

The "banquet" also had prepared a special entertainment, which consisted of a special song by the ensemble, and recitations by Walter Wilson and Paul Murphy.

Speakers were provided from each

table and gave interesting talks on subjects connected with the work of the Rotary club throughout the world. The speakers were Willard A. Parker, "The Rotary Code of Ethics," Benjamin S. Ponzner, "Ideals and Meaning of Rotary," Harry Pollard, "The History of the Lowell Rotary Club," and Dr. H. E. Davis, "Present Work of Rotary."

The only business of the evening concerned itself with a few remarks by various members on different phases of the coming charity ball, which is to be held in the Auditorium for the benefit of local charitable organizations. A large attendance is hoped for at the regular meeting next Tuesday, which will be the last meeting before the new year.

WILL MAKE TRADE REGULATIONS WITH RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Establishment of trade relations with Russia by the United States, was urged by Representative Frear, republican Wisconsin, in a speech in the house yesterday, detailing his investigations during a visit to that country last summer. "If fair trial of a trade agreement with Russia proved mutually beneficial," Frear declared, "recognition of the soviet government was a matter of course."

Settlement of the obligations of Russia to this country then could be referred to arbitration, Mr. Frear said. The Wisconsin member presented these conclusions:

"Russia measures up with two-thirds of the European countries in stability and promise."

"Its financial system is more certain and business-like than systems possessed by a majority of European countries."

"Respect for law and order prevails."

"The laws are well and fairly administered."

"Rights of religious worship were never so well recognized there as today."

"The greatest co-operative business concerns in the world are found in Russia. These concerns are seeking raw material for shoes, machinery, clothes, food and other goods, all of which we have to sell."

"Russia promises to be one of the most powerful and progressive nations in Europe within a few years and her friendship and good will is an asset worth having."

POLICE TO MAKE REPORTS ON STREETS

In compliance with a request of Supt. of Streets Doherty, all day officers of the police department have been requested to report all cases brought to their attention, of streets being dug up by any person, or of obstructions being placed in the roadway without a permit having been granted as required by a city ordinance. This action is taken in view of recent violations of this ordinance.

FIRE ON BRIDGE
A section of the wooden planking of the School street bridge caught fire this morning. A telephone alarm was sent in to the fire department at 8:40 and the blaze extinguished before any considerable damage was done. It is believed that the fire started from a cigarette stub carelessly thrown onto the wooden planking.

ANOTHER FRATERNAL LODGE ASSOCIATION

Lowell is to be the home of another fraternal lodge association, the Order of the Amaranth, newly organized by a gathering of more than 100 Lowell men and women last evening in Colonial hall.

The new fraternal organization is to be known as Warren G. Harding lodge, uniformed degree, Order of the Amaranth, and has 110 charter members. Last night's organization meeting was presided over by Hon. Lady Elynn R. Felson of Roslindale and Sir Knight Byron C. Miller of Quincy, who came to Lowell accompanied by a full suite of appendices, locally officers.

After the inaugural ceremonies, officers of Corona court, No. 2, Middlesex, emphasized the formal installation degree and had charge also of both the opening and closing ceremonies.

The first officers of the new court of the Amaranth are as follows: Hon. Lady Alice R. Long, royal patron; Sir Knight Charles E. Stanley, royal patron; Alice Livingston Gage, honoree; associate patron, A. Victor Seward, Sir knight associate patron, Mabel Pinner, treasurer; W. Ellsworth, sergeant; secretary; Jennie R. Gaudley, honoree; conductress; Ida D. Stanley, honoree; associate conductress.

COLLECTIONS COMING IN RATHER SLOWLY

Collections for the Salvation Army Christmas fund by means of the kettles located throughout the downtown section of the city have been very unsatisfactory up to the present time.

Commandant Abbot, of the local headquarters, stated today that unless the contributions increase greatly within the next week many families in this city will have to go without any Christmas dinner, in fact many will be hungry on Christmas day. The number of appeals for assistance received at the Salvation Army home is greater this year than last, due undoubtedly to the fact that many men with large families are working but two or three days a week.

The Salvation Army workers are not discouraged, however, as they feel that the people of Lowell will respond to their call for assistance as generously as they have in previous years.

"Ayer Gardens" Sold

This property, as reported today, marks the end of Mr. Ayer's career as a Lowell real estate owner.

In the lifetime of J. C. Ayer, the Ayer Gardens were noted throughout the city and state. On this property were located the greenhouses in which Mr. Ayer grew vegetables out of season so that he had fresh greens for his table at all times during the year. Flowers in abundance were also grown in the greenhouses and, in the summer months, the grounds were filled with multi-colored flower beds threaded with well kept walks and surrounded by beautiful green lawns.

For years various realtors and contractors have tried to purchase this property from Frederick Fanning Ayer without success. While no definite statement concerning the purchaser could be received today from real estate men, it was stated unofficially that a local contractor had succeeded in purchasing the property and intends to erect several residences there.

The property at the corner of Middle and Shattuck streets, while often referred to as the property of Mr. Ayer, is owned by the J. C. Ayer company, a corporation, and is not a personal holding.

Wrecked Plane Found

HASTINGS, England, Dec. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—Coast guardsmen this morning were continuing their search for Lawrence B. Sperry, the American aviator, whose airplane was found in the English channel three miles off Rye, yesterday.

Detective Inspector Milton who was shooting game on the coast at the place where Sperry flew toward sea, said that the aviator's engine was running badly just before the plane disappeared from view. Sperry, according to Milton, cried at a low altitude, apparently seeking a suitable landing place, but finally decided to venture seaward.

The coast guards at Fairlight had their attention called to the airplane by the fact that its engine was not firing badly. The plane passed over the Fairlight Viaduct at 12:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was flying so low that it just missed the rooftops in the village.

The machine then turned in an easterly direction and the coast guardsmen concluded that the pilot was making for the Lampers aerodrome, but having reached Rye, six miles to the eastward, the machine turned about to Fairlight and then swung out to sea.

The plane, identified as Sperry's by the fact that his name was on part of the fuselage, was found, and found about 2.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was brought to shore just before 7 o'clock last evening. It was apparently not damaged, and the engine, from a superficial examination, seems to be in good running order.

The surveyor of a bargeboat estate near Fairlight and a coast guard at the viaduct saw the plane strike the water about three and a half miles off shore, and 20,000 feet and east.

ARREST MEN IN PLANE

Held for Questioning in Connection With Disappearance of Koretz

FITZGERALD, Ga., Dec. 14.—Two men, traveling in an airplane, said to have been headed for Key West, were arrested here today, on orders from the sheriff of Cook county, Chicago, Ill.

They are being held for questioning in connection with the disappearance of Leo Koretz, stock promoter.

The passenger and pilot arrived here yesterday. The former gave his name as William Goff Aronson, a Canadian. He was carrying a British passport.

The pilot said he and the plane were in the service of Aronson. They said they spent the previous night in a little Kentucky mountain town.

THEY WANT BETTER POLICE ATTENTION

Repeated depredations reported to the North Chelmsford authorities and covering numerous instances of petty larceny, window breakings and night prowling, have aroused the townspeople, who are calling for more police protection. A petition is now being circulated to that end, and owners of stores, large and small, have been victims of thieves who have escaped detection thus far. "T. R. Elly's" private garage was broken into early this week and a car stolen. Other cases of breaking and entering have also been investigated, but in no recent case or depredation have the guilty parties been apprehended.

Mr. Whitcomb made a continuous campaign for the promotion of names for the pupils of all schools, with the result that in 1909, the first year on the city payroll in this connection was authorized, although it was not until 1912 that the state made a law declaring that every city should have a name for every

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—Two bandits today bound and gagged the paymaster of Michael Melody & Son Co. builders, in the office of the concern, and fled with $15,786, which he was placing in envelopes to pay the employees.

James Monk, the paymaster, had most of the money spread on a desk on the second floor, when two men, one of them masked, entered. Monk was backed into a corner, where the two men tied him to a chair and took his handkerchief and gagged him. The money was scooped into a small handbag and the bandits ran down the stairs and disappeared in an automobile.

Three thousand bandits, under the leadership of the notorious chieftains, Chen Yen-Teh and Wang Han-Yin, captured the town of Chaku Wednesday, burning and looting the houses and carrying off the magistrate and education commissioner and two other officials, together with more than 100 residents of the town, including many women, according to dispatches received here from Chungking.

Inhabitants of the town who escaped from the bandits during the pillaging of their homes, fled to the nearby city of Kweiyang. They reported that the magistrate of Chaku was slain after he had been taken prisoner.

The town is in the southern part of the inland province of Hunan, which is west of here. Changsha is the capital city of the province and more than 100 miles north of the scene of the bandit outrage.

PAN-AMERICAN RED CROSS INTERESTS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 14.—John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, who attended the recent Pan-American conference of Red Cross societies in Buenos Aires, said before leaving for home last night, that the conference in no way treated the question of consolidation with the Geneva Red Cross committee and that it devoted all its attention to purely Pan-American Red Cross interests. Mr. Payne's comment was called forth by the report that the sub-committee of the League of Red Cross societies was of the opinion the Pan-American conference had given the league its unqualified approval.

Mr. Payne is proceeding to the United States by way of Valparaiso and Antofagasta. He will visit Bolivia, southern Peru and Lima.

Barrett said he told Tsaffaras he was not fond of that proposition, while Dunn asked, "What if we got caught?" To the latter question Tsaffaras said to have replied that he had been doing "this thing" for nine years and only two of his men ever got caught. In all, the conversation, according to Barrett, lasted 20 or 30 minutes. When State Officers E. J. Sherlock and Edward P. O'Neill, previously arrested, stepped from hiding.

"Who are you?" asked Mr. Sherlock, addressing defendant, and "What is your business?"

"My name is Tsaffaras and I'm an insurance agent," was the reply.

On cross-examination, Barrett admitted that he, Dunn, and William Walsh of the registry, had gone to lunch together at the Minerva cafe in Market street and that Tsaffaras broached his proposition at that time. Mr. Dunn, the clerk, testified in much the same vein as Mr. Barrett. State Officer O'Neill's testimony was a confirmation of Mr. Barrett's and Mr. Dunn's, while the final witness, Albert S. Held Pension Hearing

Order of Rules, which has a membership of 2170 persons here in Lowell. He wished to go on record for the local lodge as in favor of old age pensions as provided in the act sponsored by the "Agles and known as House Bill 785. Mr. Quinn called attention to the fact that the plan was favored by the late Theodore Roosevelt and has already been made law in Nevada, Pennsylvania and Montana. This bill calls for an allowance of $300 a year for men at the age of 65 and $4 a week for women after reaching the age of 60. This bill provides for non-contributory pensions.

Richard K. Flynn endorsed the remarks of the first speaker as did former Senator Henry J. Draper, Superintendent of Charities Gormley, Representative Thomas J. Corbett, Senator Richard A. Gibbs of Lawrence, Councilors Lambert, Daly, Gallagher and Cosgrove, and W. Larkin. Mr. Gibbs stated he was before the commission to represent the 2210 members of Lawrence, Aerie of Eagles.

Charles Superintendent Gormley made an eloquent plea for old age pensions for any old man that will remove the stigma of pauperism from the poor. He would also favor a non-contributory state pension for invalids in advance of age. Councilor Gallagher favored raising the money by including the amount desired in the general levy. There was a wide difference of opinion as to whether the funds should be administered by state or municipal officials.

Representative Corbett said there has been a great growth in favorable sentiment to the proposal that old age pensions be established in Massachusetts and said he wished to be placed on record as in favor of old age pensions, properly administered, absolutely regardless of cost. That seemed to be the sentiment of all the other speakers with the exception of Mr. Sykes and Mr. Cunningham.

Mr. Sykes in an impassioned speech deplored the thought that the "frugal and honest" should be required to support the "wasters" and recommended sterner immigration laws as one way of decreasing the chances of poverty overtaking Americans in their old age. The commission is functioning under authority contained in the following resolution from the acts of 1923, chapter 43:

Resolved, Establishing a Special Commission to Investigate the Subject of Old Age and Other Pensions.

Resolved, That a special commission, to consist of five persons to be appointed by the governor, is hereby established for the purpose of considering the entire problem of pensions, retirement allowances and payments in the nature of pensions, whether to officers or employees retired or retiring from the public service, or to persons in private life who, by reason of injury or otherwise, are no longer able to support themselves in gainful occupations. The commission shall be known as the commission on pensions. In connection with the study of the problem of old age pensions the commission shall ascertain the number of persons who would be entitled to the benefits of such a system of pensions, the probable initial expense incident to its establishment, the expense throughout a period of twenty-five years thereafter and the effect which such establishment might have on the amount of funds expended in public and private charity. The commission shall prepare figures showing to what extent the commonwealth and its several subdivisions are now expending and have already expended during the past twenty-five years, by way of aid to mothers with dependent children, juvenile aid and poor relief, and in all other channels of public aid, relief and assistance, public funds, and the probable increase in such expenditures under existing law during the next twenty-five years. The commission shall specifically consider and suggest such methods of taxation as may be necessary to finance any system of pensions that it may recommend. The commission shall investigate the workings of the present system of retirements and pensions for public employees, including the state, county, city and town and teachers' retirement systems, and the laws providing pensions for judges and all other public officers and employees. It shall study and compare the pensions and retirement systems of other states and foreign countries in respect both to public and private systems. It shall also ascertain the total cost to date, with probable future increases, of the system of public pensions and retirements as now established. Said cost shall be exhibited with comparative figures showing valuations, population and other relevant factors, in such manner as to disclose taxation costs, both per capita and aggregate. The commission shall consider the relative merits of contributory and non-contributory systems with reference to both public and private pensions, and to what extent the cost to the public may be lessened by private gifts, bequests and devises. The commission shall be provided with quarters in the state house, may employ clerical, actuarial and other expert assistance, and may expend from such amount, not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars, as may be appropriated by the general court, such sums as may be approved by the governor and council. It may require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books and papers, and may administer oaths. The commission shall report its findings and recommendations on the aforesaid matters, with drafts of any legislation that may be necessary to carry such recommendations into effect, to the general court on or before the first Wednesday in January, nineteen hundred and twenty-five. (Approved May 5, 1923.)

GIVE BOTH! there's a richness to the beauty of this graven gold and silver Matched in gold and silver, Eversharp and Wahl Pen make a beautiful gift—a welcome gift—a useful gift. They are America's favorite pen and pencil.

Eversharp has become a daily necessity. It is a wonderful pencil with which to write. The lead never wobbles, for the exclusive rifled tip holds it firm. Look, too, for the automatic index. And the eraser and extra leads under the cap.

The all-metal Wahl Pen is revolutionary. It cannot crack or split. Holds more ink. Will last a lifetime. Priced from $4 to $50. Eversharp, $1 to $50. Give both in the velvet-lined gift box. Look for the name on each.

SOMETHING NEW! The Miniature Set

A real Eversharp and a real Wahl Pen in a diminutive size that can be carried on the end of a watch chain, ribbon or in the smallest purse. The pen and pencil shown are the actual size.

They give the same perfect service as their larger brothers. The tiny Wahl Pen will write 1200 words at a filling—think of it. You can't give a more original gift—nor one which is more useful than the Eversharp and Wahl Pen miniature set.

....a double winner at the Olympic Games at Athens, and twice all-around champion of America.

Then came a change. I was admitted to the Bar, and wholly abandoned my outdoor life. The effect on my health was disastrous. Constipation and blood impurities became first an annoyance, then a menace, and finally a chronic disability. My nerves were 'on edge'; I became moody, irritable, and subject to intense depression.

One day I heard two chance acquaintances praising the merits of Fleischmann's Yeast. They spoke with enthusiasm, but it was their appearance, even more than their words, which decided me....

The age of miracles is still here. Inside of a fortnight I noticed a distinct improvement in my health; in a month I was literally a new man. Within a year my nerves had steadied and my appetite came back. I am today in the pink of condition and a convert for life to Fleischmann's Yeast.

ELLERY H. CLARK

1112 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.

"the age of miracles is still here—in one month I was literally a new man"

There is nothing unusual about the enthusiasm of the New England lawyer whose letter is printed above.

Constipation, skin troubles, digestive disorders—all of them are generally due simply to wrong habits of living and eating. All of them have been becoming more common year by year. Now at last we are learning how to fight them.

The whole secret of the overwhelming popularity of Fleischmann's Yeast is that it is a food, not a medicine, and that it helps to remove the cause permanently, not merely to check the symptoms temporarily. Its millions of tiny living cells aid digestion and give the intestinal muscles regular, healthy exercise. Its rich vitamin and protein content increases the white corpuscles in the blood and helps to tone up the whole system.

Remember that Fleischmann's Yeast for Health comes only in the tinfoil wrapper, and cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it.

Eat two or three cakes a day before or between meals, plain, in water or fruit juices, or spread on crackers or on bread, whichever you prefer. GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE

Called Together in Joe Doe Proceedings to Take Up Charges of Blackmail

Inquiry Aimed at Clearing Up Reports Involving Well Known Persons in Boston

BOSTON, Dec. 13.—The Suffolk county grand jury, which term expires Dec. 31, was called together in joint sessions today to investigate alleged charges of extortion and blackmail. It is said that the inquiry is aimed at clearing up reports current involving well known persons in the community.

The first witness, Blanche Paul, was divorced recently by her husband, Scott Paul who also brought suit for alienation of his wife's affections against Victor J. Scudder of Methuen. The case was settled out of court.

William J. Conner, former district attorney of Middlesex county and now under indictment for larceny and extortion, was Paul's counsel.

U. S. DECISION A HELPFUL BREAK IN CLOUDS

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The Times looks hopefully upon Washington's approval of the participation of American experts in the work of the two committees which are to investigate Germany's finances.

"Into the manner in which these representatives will be elected, it is unnecessary to inquire," says the newspaper. "They will doubtless be thoroughly competent and thoroughly representative. It is enough for the time being that whoever they may be, they will work with the full approval of their government and that no domestic difficulties will impede their freedom of action. It is of the greatest value for all the allies that the United States should take an active part in the inquiry."

The Westminster Gazette, characterizes the American decision as "a hopeful break in the clouds hanging over Europe."

The inquiry is not the full affair as should have been preferred, but it will give character to the American investigation. It is not a matter for concern, since nobody will act without the approval of the American government.

The newspaper contends that in view of the political situation here, Prime Minister Baldwin should do nothing in connection with this affair of the negotiations situation until he has consulted the leaders of the other parties.

U. S. EXPORTS IN NOV. TOTALLED $404,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Exports from the United States during November were valued at $404,000,000, compared with imports for the same period of $292,000,000, leaving a balance of international trade favorable to this country of $112,000,000.

The value of exports during November announced today by the commerce department was greater than that for any other month since February, 1921. The imports in value were a trifle less than those of October and practically equal to those of November, 1922 when imported commodities amounted to $281,600,000.

Figures made public today are preliminary but are expected to be changed materially when the detailed returns from all parts of entry are received.

Officials said one of the reasons for the heavy export total could be found in recent high prices for cotton, which commodity is a very large factor in fall shipments from the United States.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF LORD SHAUGHNESSY

MONTREAL, Dec. 13.—Crowds of mourning citizens lined the thoroughfares of Montreal today, as the body of Lord Shaughnessy, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific railway, was carried to St. Patrick's church for the funeral service, said by Archbishop Gauthier.

During the service a minute of silence was observed by workers throughout the Dominion. All trains and ships of the Canadian Pacific Co. were halted during this period.

The funeral services were attended by Premier MacKenzie-King, members of his cabinet, leaders of the opposition party in parliament and representatives of all the commercial and professional interests of the city.

Burial was in Cote des Neiges cemetery.

FOR CONTROL OF HARD COAL INDUSTRY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 13.—Adoption of a definite program of state and federal action looking toward control of the anthracite coal industry was sought by Governor Duncanson today of representatives of anthracite consuming states, who met in response to his invitation to resume consideration of the subject at his first conference, Nov. 26.

Despite prospects of a smaller attendance at today's meeting than at the first session, the governor was prepared to go on with his plans and before the opening of the conference he expressed his expectation of accomplishing definite action along the lines of his program.

IMPROVEMENT IN COAL.—BOSTON, Dec. 13.—The law empowering local boards of health and certain other public bodies to condemn coal unsuitable for use has brought a marked improvement in the quality of anthracite sold in this state, according to a statement issued today by the state department of public health.

RADIO IN FROZEN NORTH

Daylight Acts to Disintegrate Radio Waves, Says Sec.

K. B. Warner

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Daylight acts to disintegrate radio waves, or affects the earth's crust so that it "for some other undefined natural phenomenon" absorbs them, experimental communication with stations in the frozen north has convinced Secretary K. B. Warner of the American Radio Relay League.

His conclusions were made known last night by the Aerial League of America. The experiments were made in a world-wide "check-up" last Monday. It showed that what was preventing contact during the few weeks of Arctic daylight between stations on this continent and the ice-bound ships of the Arctic explorers Amundsen and MacMillan, Amundsen's ship, the Maud, is approximately in latitude 78 degrees north, longitude 16.5 east, while MacMillan's land station is in Refugio Harbor, 19 miles south of the "ice-bound" ship.

While stations on this continent could not signal the Maud stations in Norway, Denmark and other European countries from the other side of the North Pole were communicating with her.

It also was demonstrated, Mr. Warner said, that in cold weather, either through contraction of the earth or ice being coated with ice, electromagnetic waves were not so readily dissipated or absorbed. He said the majority of western hemisphere stations to speak to the Maud while stations on the other side of the world were succeeding "seems to lie in the magnetic field that covers a large area of the southerly part of Greenland and magnetic north in the state of New York and Canada."

United States stations from Maine to California, as far south as Louisiana and Texas, communicated with the Maud during November declared Mr. Warner, the ship's speakers being heard loudest west of the Mississippi. The last contact was through Prince Rupert Island.

GIVE UP PLAN FOR NAVAL BASE AT SINGAPORE

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(By the Associated Press.) The British government's action in cancelling the proposed base of inspection by the Earl of Clarendon, chief of the general staff, to Singapore and Australian ports, is accepted here as a definite abandonment of the government of the project to construct a big naval base at Singapore.

In the knowledge that no succeeding cabinet, whether liberal or labor, is likely to endorse such a huge and costly enterprise, Prime Minister Baldwin and his advisers apparently have decided that the $50,000,000 which would take to build the naval base and fortifications can be better used to relieve the acute economic and unemployment situation at home.

The government's explanation of the sudden abandonment of Lord Clarendon's trip is that the chief of the general staff will be needed at home to advise the new secretary of state for war if one is chosen, but the majority of the press and the public interpret the cancellation of the journey to mean the definite shelving of the scheme.

REESTABLISHMENT OF U. S. CONSULATE

ATTACKS KU KLUX KLAN

Greatest Menace to Better Relations Between Negroes and Whites

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The greatest menace to better relations between the negroes and whites is the Ku Klux Klan, Mrs. W. C. Winchborough of St. Louis, superintendent of the Woman's auxiliary of the Presbyterian church in the United States (South), declared in an address today before the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches.

"The evil which is today the greatest menace to inter-racial good will is the Ku Klux Klan," she said. "That organization, known as the invisible empire, under the guise of patriotism, is sowing seeds of race hatred, lawlessness and anarchy which, if not checked, will strike at the very life of our government itself. I come from a denomination which does not sanction a union of church and state, which does not intermingling politics and religion. Were the Ku Klux Klan only a political organization, we might remain silent. However, important as is the political side of its activity, there is a moral and religious side which it would seem cannot be overlooked by the Christian people of America. This organization combines all the evils which the church has been decrying for many years. Mob violence, in its naked reality, is unbefittingly enough to repel honest men, but the K.K.K. robes and law under the guise of patriotism, it is organized among, breaking up homes, terrorizing communities, murdering and slaying the victims and accomplishing its diabolical purposes with covered faces."

"While persecuting the race from which Our Master came, they have adopted the cross as their symbol, and, saddest of all, have enlisted among their followers thousands of those who profess to be followers of the lovely Nazarene, who came to bring peace to the world and who called all men his brethren."

"This organization is reaching its terrible tentacles into every state in the Union. The time for inaction has passed. If this monster is to be crushed, it must be done by the Christian people of America."

PROF. DANIELS' VIEWS ON 'R. R. CONSOLIDATION'

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 13.—Railroad consolidation would not mean large economies in operating expenses, but there would be a small percentage of saving in accounting, purchasing and repairing of equipment, Prof. W. N. Daniels of Yale university, said today in an analysis of the subject made public here. Prof. Daniels was chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission in 1918 and 1919 and recently took the chair of railroad transportation at Yale.

In a general survey of transportation problems, Prof. Daniels said that while existing statutes do not require railroads to consolidate, the government looks with favor upon such action as a means of equalizing rates. "Railroads which desire to consolidate, in accordance with the commission's final plan, are to be accorded permission to do so," he said. "They are practically immune to many of the prohibitions of the anti-trust statutes, such as the Sherman act and the Clayton act."

CHRISTIAN CHARITY

Rev. Dr. McGarry Gave Inspiring Talk to Knights of Columbus

The feature of the Knights of Columbus meeting last evening was a discourse upon charity by Rev. J. J. McGarry, D.D., rector of St. Patrick's church. The reverend gentleman's lecture was most interesting and inspiring. He quoted the apostles to show the concept of charity as a Christian virtue. He outlined the purposes of the Catholic charity bureau, recently established, and complimented very highly the work of the guild conducted in connection with the local council of the Knights of Columbus. In spite of all the welfare associations and all the legislation designed to remove the causes of poverty, there is still a very wide field for charitable work, and the speaker referred to a variety of cases arising from the conditions of life in practically every city in which a great many unfortunate suffering from want and other forms of misery need the relief which those who have the means can afford to give and should give as a Christian duty.

He paid a high tribute to the work done by the guild in rescuing boys, often the victims of environment, and often liable to be sent to reform institutions for minor and even trivial offenses. He had seen a statement from the head of a reform institution, to the effect that a high percentage of the inmates were sent on "reformation." He didn't believe it, for from his own investigation he knows that some of the prisoners and reformatories are universities of crime from which the convicts committed for a single offense go out skilled in every form of criminality. He made a strong plea for a "square deal" for the boy who gets into trouble often through ignorance and lack of proper guidance rather than willful or inherent viciousness. He was particularly severe upon the men or the parents who scandalize boys by drunkenness, gambling or moral depravity.

Dr. McGarry's talk followed a brisk business session of the council. Grand Knight Frank A. Groves presiding. Resolutions on the death of the late Joseph T. Wyman were read by Hugh J. Molloy, chairman of the committee on resolutions, and accepted. The resolutions will be recorded in the books of the council and copies forwarded to members of the family of the deceased.

Daniel S. O'Brien, chairman of the committee on by-laws, read an interesting report of the changes, all of which were adopted.

In connection with the annual R. of C. Christmas celebration it was decided to have a Christmas tree as in past years, and the following were appointed a committee to make arrangements for this feature: Past Grand Knight John E. Hart, Fred Wright, John J. Quenneville, Edward Callahan and Silvia Bernadini.

It was also voted to hold another turkey night on the evening of Dec. 26. Deputy Grand Knight John J. Flannery was appointed chairman of the committee to take charge of this affair. He will have the assistance of John F. Roane, Jr., Timothy F. Roane, Eugene A. Fitzgerald and Edward Ryan.

A rehearsal for the musical show will be held this evening and all members of the cast are requested to be present. Daniel S. O'Brien is at the head of this work and he made a suggestion that the proceeds be devoted to the work of the guild which was adopted.

LOWELL TUBERCULOSIS COUNCIL MEETING

The Lowell Tuberculosis council, at a business meeting held at the chamber of commerce rooms, Wednesday, voted to enlarge the council membership, as advised by the State Tuberculosis league, in order to include all surrounding towns.

Miss Riordan, local tuberculosis nurse, reported supervising 150 cases in her district last month. Miss Marshall, in charge of nutritional work locally, reported that successful clinics have been held weekly with good results. The latter has also made home visits regularly, teaching girls and mothers how to prepare properly foods for members of families underhoused. Girls have also come in to nourishment. Miss Marshall has found much to do in this particular line of humane activities.

Lowell council executives announce that Miss Marshall may be reached by telephone at the Lowell Guild, Dutton street, the number being 2124.

Treasurer W. N. Goodell reported that financial returns from the tuberculosis Christmas seal campaign are still coming in, the totals being about the same as last year at this time.

Attention is called by the council to the sale of certain seals in Lowell that have no connection with tuberculosis campaigning. The seals being liberally sold from door to door by children. In most cases, are similar in appearance to the authorized tuberculosis seals, but none of the money collected by the distribution of the other seals or stamps, goes to aid tuberculosis work. Some seals of the Christmas mailing stamp variety now being made in Lowell, according to officials of the local tuberculosis council, are manufactured by a private New York publishing concern for commercial gain. These seals are lithographed so as to closely represent in appearance the authorized national tuberculosis Christmas seals.

All red seals now being sold by Lowell school children—and many are now being distributed in all sections of the city by eager youths of both sexes—are the regulation tuberculosis health seals and bear double-barred official red crosses.

The school children selling these official seals are trying to equal their sales records of last year, which amounted to about $1,000. The local council has asked the public to cooperate in this genuine campaign to guard the community health. Julia W. Stevens, of 25 Pentucket avenue, is the active local council secretary.

Horton, superintendent of the Metropolitan company, presiding as newly elected president, discussed many interesting matters covering insurance programs for the New Year. Several members offered suggestions for 1924 programs that were accepted.

Among the speakers were W. R. Nealon, deputy superintendent of the Metropolitan; E. N. Shute, assistant superintendent of the John Hancock; James Sykes, dean of the life underwriters of Lowell; H. Chipman C. Leander, Joseph H. McGinn, Charles Burns, W. R. Whit, Edward Gregoire and Joseph A. Miller. A vote of thanks was tendered T. J. Bernhardt for assistance in arranging various association meetings and programs.

The members discussed at length old age pensions and some of its features in connection with general public life insurance.

SOUTHWEST IN GRIP OF SEVERE STORM

BLIZZARD CLAIMS AT LEAST 12 LIVES IN SOUTHWEST

Big Section in Grip of Severe Storm—Snow as Far South as Alabama—Cold Wave Predicted to Reach Florida—States Report Heaviest Snowfall on Record

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Winter today traced an icy finger through the southwest into the southern tier of states, with snow as far south as Alabama, and a cold wave predicted to penetrate
even southern Florida.

In the southwest, where a blizzard has claimed at least 12 lives in New Mexico and west Texas, rescuers were aided in their work today by rising temperatures.

Although more than 24 hours had elapsed since snow stopped falling,

New Mexico early today still was trying to dig out. Automobile reports said, "Highway and automobile traffic was blocked in many parts of the state, and a cold wave predicted to penetrate
even southern Florida."

Seventy-Two Autos Snowbound
Telephone reports from Socorro and San Marcel, N. M., last night said that 72 automobiles with more than 200 passengers were snowbound in Nogal
Canyon, on the highway to Hot Springs, N. M., and that 100 men, mentioned since snow stopped falling.

MOTOR VEHICLE EXAMINERS IN COURT ON BRIBERY CASE

Testify Against Tsaffaras, Held for Superior Court in $1000 Bail, on Charge of Proposing Graft on Examinations of Chauffeurs and Operators

John Tsaffaras, charged with attempting to bribe Edward J. Barrett, an inspector of motor vehicles in the local registry on Nov. 20, was found probably guilty in district court today and held in $1000 surety for the superior court. Judge Fisher presided.

State Officer, Edward J. Sherlock, prosecuting officer, called as the first witness, Mr. Barrett, who recounted the incident in the old councilmanic chamber at city hall, where the alleged attempt at bribery took place. He said he had been on a speaking acquaintance with defendant for four or five years and had always addressed him as "Jeff."

On Nov. 20, Barrett testified, Tsaf-faras offered him and William Dunn,

CALLS ON GERMANY TO "SMOKE OUT" FRANCE

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press) Dr. Stresemann, the foreign minister, is determined to bring about an early clarification of Franco-German relations especially with regard to France's plans in the Rhine land and the occupied Ruhr sector.

Since assuming the foreign portfolio the former chancellor has impressed on Chancellor Marx and his colleagues the cabinet the immediate urgency of "smoking out" France and French aspirations in occupied Germany. Unless France is forced to show her colors, Dr. Stresemann believes all budgetary calculations or attempts to salvage Germany's internal economic situation will be futile.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press.) The defense which late yesterday entered a plea of insanity, is expected to rest its case today in the trial of Philip E. Fox, editor of the Night Hawk, the official organ of the Ku Klux Klan, for killing William S. Cobb, counsel for the Slin-mons faction of the Klan.

Supreme Court Judge De Courcy Castigates City of Lowell for Unnecessary Litigation

Comment Comes During Discussion of Central Bridge Case Today—Judge Declares That "Somebody Ought to Be Investigated"—Calls Situation Most Astounding State of Affairs—Says It Does Not Reflect Credit Upon the City

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—Comment upon the frequent litigation over city contracts in Lowell was made by Judge DeCourcy of the Supreme court today, when counsel for the Engineering Service and Construction Co., filed a motion to have dissolved an injunction obtained by the city of Lowell to prevent the company from collecting an execution for $28,000 for work done on a bridge in Lowell.

"It is almost beyond credence," the court said, "it is a most astounding state of affairs for the city of Lowell that it cannot do a job up there without having a lot of litigation over it. I think the people there should know that it is not for the credit of the city."

"It is quite apparent that there is more than appears on the face of these papers. Somebody ought to be investigated. I don't know who, I don't say who, I don't know anything about the case. But it seems to me that there is bad faith somewhere on the part of someone in this litigation. And this is not the only one from the city of Lowell, where there has been a lot of litigation over contracts."

The injunction secured by the City of Lowell, enjoining the Engineering Service and Construction Co., from serving its execution against the city in connection with the reconstruction of Central bridge, still is in effect as result of ruling given today by Judge DeCourcy.

The case was in court again today,
upon a motion of Attorney John M.
O'Donoghue to dissolve the injunction, which motion was denied.

The city solicitor opposed the motion on the ground that an agreement has been made to the effect that the Engineering Service and Construction Co. will make no attempt to collect this money until a new motion filed by the city to vacate the decree, or to open the case, has been passed upon.

LOWELL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS IN BOSTON

President Fisher, Secretary-Manager Wells and Others Attend Convention of Allied Members of State Chamber of Commerce

President Edward Fisher and Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of Lowell chamber of commerce, accompanied by Samuel H. Thompson, president of the Thompson Hardware company, together with Members Ralph and Chester Runnels of the local chamber went to Boston today to attend a convention of allied members of Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, holding this afternoon an important session for deliberations of New England business import.

Special speakers were to address the business men after the noon hour. One of the chief subjects for inquiry and debate is the proposed legislation calling for the arbitration of all commercial disputes by properly authorized bodies. For ten years or more, business men in New York state have had the benefits of laws that work to prevent continual lawsuits and check vexatious wrangles over settlement of trade supplies and payments.

It is said that in some states where commercial arbitration is not in force, out of 25,000 lawsuits over business disputes last year, only 5000 could be heard in the civil courts. Under the system recommended to Massachusetts commercial interests for approval and legislative adoption, hundreds of disputes could be settled in reasonable fashion with arbitration in force and more amicable adjustments made by
"all at the same table" methods.

Lowell commercial men believe the proposed legislation worth adopting and were prepared this afternoon to so express themselves at the Boston conference.

Mr. Thompson of this city, is vice-president of the state organization and presided at the meeting.

LOWELL CASE WILL GO TO FULL BENCH FOR DECISION

Action Brought to Prevent Erection of Tailor Shop in Residential District in High Street Went to Hearing Today Before Judge Hammond

The action brought by Building Inspector Francis A. Connor against Joseph Stoklosa of Lowell, seeking a temporary injunction to restrain him from erecting a tailor shop at 315 High street, included in a zoned residential district, will go to the full bench of the supreme court for decision.

The case went to preliminary hearing this forenoon at the Pemberton square court house in Boston before Judge Hammond in the equity motion session of the superior court and after hearing arguments presented by City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, representing Inspector Connor, and Atty. William D.

Regan, representing Mr. Stoklosa, the court deemed the case of sufficient importance to send to the full bench for decision.

No date for hearing before the full bench has been set.

The case is deemed of unusual importance inasmuch as it is the first brought under the local zoning ordinance and it is felt a precedent will be established upon the result.

EXPLAINS ORIGIN OF "PANAMA OIL BUBBLE"

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—The origin of the "Panama Oil bubble," organized as the Bayano River Trust Co., in which friends and relatives of Leo Koretz are said to have lost millions today, was ascribed by his intimate friends to a swindle perpetrated on him in 1910.

"A relative of an attorney named Dan Relasco," said Attorney Francis B. Matthews, "came here in 1910, announcing he had concessions for rich timber lands in Panama. He sought some one to invest $10,000 to use for cutting and shipping some of the timber. Koretz invested that amount and that was the last seen of that promiser."

Koretz made a special trip to Panama to hunt for the man and while there, he evidently acquired a lot of local color for his own greatest promotion venture the Bayano Co., and the inspiration which "carried him through 15 years of frenzied finance."

Masquerading was forbidden in France (1538) owing to its abuses.

There are 400,000,000 women in Asia in need of education.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IN ACTION OF TORT

In civil session of police court yesterday, Judge Fisher presiding, plaintiff in action of tort brought by Apollonia Gauda, ppa., vs. George P. Nichols was awarded a verdict of $300.

According to testimony introduced, the plaintiff, a girl eight years of age, was talking on the sidewalk on Anderson street, near the corner of Perry street, on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14, when Nichols' automobile ran into the walk and struck her. At St. John's hospital physicians who examined the victim found no broken bones, but reported bodily injuries and severe shock.

MRS. GREENSLITT DEAD

Report of Death of Former Lowell Woman in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Word has been received here of the death last Saturday in New Rochelle, N. Y., of Mrs. Truman W. Greenslitt, nee Elizabeth L. Cleveland, a former Lowell resident. Her husband was founder of The Evening Standard in that city and published it up to a short time ago when the paper was combined with The Daily Star.

Mrs. Greenslitt, prominent with the women's club, the Garden club, and Trinity church were in New Rochelle, was actively associated with her husband in the management and editing of The Standard during his tenure as editor. Mrs. Greenslitt established a Saturday Chat page which to this day is regarded by the greater number of subscribers as one of the most important and indispensable features of the paper. During the World war she was active in soldier welfare work at Fort Slocum, the big army recruit receiving station in New Rochelle, and devoted much of her time to Red Cross and Liberty Loan drives.

A tireless, energetic worker, she was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact. Besides her devoted husband, one sister, Miss Rebecca Cleveland, survives. Mrs. Greenslitt first became ill last March when she suffered a partial stroke of paralysis. Until a few hours before the end she retained control of her faculties and her mind did not share the impairment of her physique, save at intervals.

Rev. Paul Gordon Payson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, conducted the services at her home in New Rochelle on Tuesday, where the body lay in state ere its interment in Beachwood cemetery there. The family of Dr. Payson belonged to the same church here in Lowell as did Mrs. Greenslitt and the minister in his eulogy mentioned this fact.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Adventures, soldiers of fortune, fugitives from justice, and gold hunters in search of their respective goals—all of the mystery and drops of civilization beside its finest representations—pass and repass in the tense drama of the northland, "Where the North Begins," now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre as the feature attraction.

This Warner Brothers' classic of the screen was filmed in northern California, in a wild region rarely visited by mortals. To the making of it was brought a cast of players—all of whom are acquainted with the rude life of frontier men and women. Claire Adams, called the greatest actress in the movies, a skilled horsewoman; Walter McNeill, who has prospected in Alaska; Fred Huntley, who has known all over the world and had a life of rich adventure; Pat Hartigan, Myrtle Owen and Charles Stevens. The other feature for the last of the week is "The Solitaire Wife," a story of modern social life, with an all-star cast.

HAYLOR THEATRE

Never has any picture come to Lowell with such an enviable reputation as "The Broken Violin," which opens its first local run at the Haylor Theatre today. "The Broken Violin" has established a name for breaking all previous business records held by theatres throughout the country. In theatrical circles it is what is known as a "sure-fire" money-getter and local theatres everywhere will realize the reason for this when they witness this picture that is creating such a sensation wherever it plays.

Contrary to what the title, "The Broken Violin," may suggest, it is not a sob or a lame picture, by any means. It is a picture with thrills and snatches. The story opens showing an old millionaire, who, realizing that his days are about over, starts a search for his son, whom he had discovered many years before on account of a marriage which the old man bitterly opposed.

The son, however, is far away in the north woods, happily married, and with a beautiful child. He little realizes that he and his little family are mystery and romance from start to being made heirs to a vast fortune. An unscrupulous secretary, mad with the desire to get hold of the fortune, gets another man to pose as the son. Of course his plans ultimately fail, but not until many thrilling and exciting incidents take place. One of the hair-raising stunts shows a man jumping from a speeding aeroplane to a fast motor boat. The cast of "The Broken Violin" includes Dorothy Mackall, former Polka-benny; Gladstone James; Zena Keefe; Reed Moses and Rita Logan, famous child actress who appeared in D. W. Griffith's "Orphans of the Storm."

The second feature, also new to Lowell, is "As a Man Lives," a story dealing with the Apaches in "France" and how a certain Apache, with the aid of modern plastic surgery, acquires a suitably face. The stars in this picture are Robert Frazer and Gladys Hulette.

A Pathé News and a good comedy are also included in the program. THE STRAND Norman Kerry, who plays one of the leading roles in "The Acquittal," the big mystery drama now playing at The Strand, was more of a hero than the patrons generally realize when he played the part for Kevy. For Kevy was suffering intensely from blood poisoning, caused by the bite of a wolf. He kept his bandaged hand concealed and acted his difficult role with his usual skill though suffering much from his hurt. "The Acquittal" is a great mystery story. Don't tell your neighbors how it is solved. "Snowdrift," the circus story in which Gladys Walton appears, is also great entertainment.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There is the next sum of $500 awaiting the person who can give a plausible explanation of how the black make of Leah, Maid o' Mist, is carried off so successfully without injury to the fair lady who is tied inside the straw box. It is probably the most exciting act of modernism ever performed here. In 1914, the monologues who looks very much like a comedian, is causing spasms of laughter at every performance. He is without doubt one of the funniest men ever put on a local stage. The dancing, acting and comedy of Kells and Walsh are pleasing and finished, and the business of "Barabara," the act of Eastman and Moore, strikes a responsive chord. Others on the bill are Mae Francis, singer, and Peter and St. Clair, xylophonists. "Bull Dog Drummond" is the feature picture. It possesses punch.

"LISTEN TO ME"

It has been a long time since a musical extravaganza was produced—perhaps the one best remembered was the popular "Wizard of Oz." Then came the tango and jazz craze. Producers fell in line with the public craving and accepted nothing in a musical score that did not accede to the popular demand. But the tango and jazz had its day and gave way to beautiful tunes with a waltz swing. Authors of today have offered the public another opportunity where they can look and listen and enjoy the greatest famous musical extravaganza with its fantastic story, woven together with novelties, such as "Top of the World," "Humpty Dumpty" and "Bones in Toyland." Yet the modernized versions have improved upon the obsolete productions in wondrous stage settings, costly draperies of silks and satins, electrified novelties, and a gripping theme embodied with a score of extraordinary melodies that were unthought of in the olden days. "Listen to Me" embraces these modern ideas in its entirety with its gorgeous silk and satin draperies, scenery unsurpassed in splendor, lavish display of costumes, and music that excel each other in progress, lavish bath chairs. This musical extravaganza is coming to the Lowell Opera House next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with Wednesday matinee, bringing with it a brilliant cast and

EXPERT CORSETIERE ALWAYS IN ATTENDANCE

PREDICTS EXTINCTION OF HORSE IN CENTURY

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press)—The playboys of New York proclaim it one of the most cosmopolitan and most cultured cities in the world.

Three Hamlets hold the boards at the same time. John Barrymore, Walter Hampden and Sir John Gielgud. Ten plays of distinctly British origin or influence are being given, among them plays by W. Somerset Maugham, John Galsworthy and Bernard Shaw. Historical plays concerning Queen Victoria and Robert E. Lee are as successful as popular farces. The talents of stars like Mrs. Pike, Richard Bennett, William Faversham and Cyril Maude are enlisted.

There are five French plays, one a farious classic, another by the most promising young dramatist in France. Two Spanish plays present scenes of the histories of Canova, the famous Italian non-vivante, and of Sancho Panza of Don Quixote fame.

A play by Eugene O'Neill leads the list of those from middle-Europe, while there are others of the sunny South seas.

Eleanora Duse, beloved by many to be the late Sarah Bernhardt's only rival in modern times, heads an Italian company in Scandinavian Italian and an Italian classic, while a Russian company from the Moscow Arts theatre is presenting similar work. The Grand Guignol of Paris brings old fashioned thrills, while the Swedish ballet counters with ultra-modern extravaganzas.

your health. They thrive in bad drinking water, in polluted soil, in foul air, unclean food, scratches and slight wounds, and through direct contact in what are called the catching and contagious diseases.

To steer clear of their attack, you must be on your guard all the time. Keep your teeth and mouth clean. The high-powered microscope will show you strange inhabitants. Bathe at least once a week, twice is better, and once during some part of every 24 hours will do you no harm.

Choose your food for the best health-building values, within the limits of your purse, not for getting green vegetables, fruit, milk and its products. Keep your hands clean, when putting anything in your mouth. Avoid coughing, and sneezing in public.

Take fresh air and sunlight in large doses at every opportunity. Do not let garbage or other waste accumulate on your premises, to invite contamination, flies or other vermin, which breed and spread germs.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and attracts per cent. of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

IN MEXICAN REVOLT

Revolutionary fires are smoldering in Mexico again. General Plutarco E. Calles (left), President Obregon's choice for his successor, is the center of contention. Calles, minister of interior in Obregon's cabinet, is regarded as semi-socialistic. He is a firm believer in the policy, "Mexico for Mexicans." Adolfo de la Huerta, formerly the other member of the "big three" in the Obregon administration, is leading the movement against Calles and Obregon. He is being aided by Flores Villareal and Raul Madero (right). De la Huerta is considered friendly to foreign interests.

USE X-RAY PHOTOGRAPHS TO STUDY MUMMIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (by the Associated Press)—Pictures of mummies taken with the X-ray disclose conditions existing in the bodies of ancient Peruvians and Egyptians which otherwise would escape our knowledge; unwrapping the mummy means its destruction for purposes of accurate study. Such pictures have been taken by D. C. Davies, director of the Field

Museum of Natural History, co-operating with the Victor X-ray corporation.

These pictures revealed also what had been buried with the body. For instance, various Peruvian mummy bathrobes are made of corduroy lined with self-colored silk.

That Hang-on Cough Must Go

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of all for the Cough that Sticks

Make It Yourself In Two Minutes

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this supremely excellent cough mixture yourself why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from any drugist one ounce of Purimint (double strength) to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one hour pants—that's all there is to it.

Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold in chest or head, or has acute catarrh, you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because in it there is a substance too gently for ordinary cough syrups that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poultice, and blessed relief comes at once.

And you should also bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Purimint and get better.—Adv.

TO MAKE STUDY

OF COMMON COLDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(A.P.)—A detailed study of common colds is to be made by the public health service in cooperation with a number of the country's leading universities. Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general, says colds, influenza and similar conditions are responsible for a great deal of suffering, loss of time, disability and a not inconsiderable number of deaths. He says there are few, if any, individuals who do not suffer from some acute respiratory condition at least once a year, losing from a day to a week or more as a result, and some attacks develop into more serious conditions, at times even a fatal pulmonary tuberculosis being lighted up. Comparatively little is definitely known as to the real causes, distribution, manner of spread, and epidemiology of these so-called minor respiratory ailments. Dr. Cumming says, and this detailed study being undertaken is expected to be of value in attempting to prevent these afflictions. The work will be actively undertaken at Harvard university, Johns Hopkins medical school, Georgetown and Howard universities, Washington; Tulane university, New Orleans; and state university, University of Chicago and University of California. It is anticipated the studies will extend over two or three years.

MIDDLESEX NATIONAL BANK THRIFT CLUB

The wonderful growth of the Christmas savings plan, steadily supported by leading state and national banking institutions, public welfare organizations and other operating forces having to do with the prosperity of our country, is one of the most unique records in the history of innovations prepared to benefit all people and institutions of humanity at large.

One of the most remarkable records ever made by any banking institution in New England is just announced by the Middlesex National Bank, Merrimack and Palmer streets, member of the Federal Reserve system and under full supervision of the United States government.

This banking house announces that on Saturday morning, December 15, 1,845 checks will be mailed to members of the Middlesex National Bank Thrift Club, as it is known.

These checks are the Christmas savings of depositors who placed their funds in the Middlesex National Bank during the past year, in small deposits as a rule, and who are now to receive the principal and interest of their savings for holiday shopping or gift-giving.

This is the seventh year of the Thrift club plan at the Middlesex

National bank. The number of Christmas savings depositors during the first six years totaled 25,913. This year's number is 7,845, making a total for seven years of just 33,758 Thrift club members living in Lowell and nearby towns.

Total funds distributed to Thrift club members since the institution of the Middlesex plan amount to $1,349,918—an impressive figure for such a short period.

The banking institution's first Thrift club start came on December 1, 1918. The idea was new and the Middlesex bank was the first to adopt its important features, preferring the title "Thrift" to that of simply "savings." It proved a happy word indeed—a word somewhat catchy, easy to remember and briefly and suitably covering the entire vocabulary referring to savings programs. The movement to save spread rapidly. Other banks took up the idea and with success.

The Middlesex National Bank has led in number of depositors and amount of money distributed each year. It has been a record to be proud of and one that has come from constant endeavor to keep in close touch with patrons and the public at large by generous advertising, clear-cut statements of policies and special investment features and widespread promotion of the idea of saving and keeping on saving.

In 1918, the first Thrift club year, 2,247 depositors placed funds in the Middlesex bank, the Christmas distribution totals amounting to $76,570.55. Seventy per cent of the Christmas clubs are located in the eastern part of the country and New England banks are numerous in the list.

The individual savings accounts vary greatly. Last year's summaries showed only moderate single depositor totals in a majority of cases, running from ten or twelve dollars to several hundred dollars.

The bank books taken out this season, 7,845 in all, show a range of savings from as low as $12.52 to as high as $1,910. The thriftiest of the lot, of course, was the depositor who saved enough to receive a check for more than one thousand dollars tomorrow night from the Middlesex National bank. The saving methods of this customer may never be revealed, but the Thrift clubman's record speaks for itself.

"PIERRE OF THE PLAINS"

A backwoods drama of the great Canadian northwest, "Pierre of the Plains," is playing to big and appreciative audiences at the Lowell Opera House this week. With seemingly just enough of the love theme, just enough punning and humor, and just the proper proportion of real drama, the show is rated as the seasonal success by many regular patrons. Vic Browne as the calloused, hard-fisted, hard-hearted Pierre who reforms because of a love for a woman is the outstanding star of the play. Miss Hazel Corinne, daughter of the house, has a difficult struggle in determining whether she really loves the hardened gambler or straight-forward Sgt. Redding of the mounted police. In the end the gambler that she once despised is accepted as the future husband because of the determination he has shown to give up his bad habits and prove his worth. Nathan McLean plays the part of the disappointed lover.

Asbestos has been found in Hungary, Russia, New South Wales, New Zealand and Cape Colony.

"BIG RED BALL"
AT ROTARY DANCE

The "Big Red Ball" is going to be a surprise feature of the Rotary charity ball to be held at the Auditorium on the evening of December 25. What the "Big Red Ball" is only a few of the Rotary club ball committee know and they are as non-committal as a handful of clams. The general committee, headed by President Herbert E. Davis, met yesterday and spent nearly two hours in a discussion of plans. Maybe the identity of the "Big Red Ball" will be divulged next week, and then again it may be kept a dark secret until the night of the ball.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Prescott, 55 Liberty street, when Mr. Roswell A. Davis and Mrs. Ella Mae Emery were united in marriage by Rev. Everett C. Jackson, pastor of the Highland M. E. church. The bride was handsomely gown in King blue beaded chonille trimmed with broaded silver cloth and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna A. Finn of Salem, wore black chiffon velvet trimmed with American beauty broaded chonille and carried a sweet peas. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was an unquarried ring. The bridegroom's gift to his best man, Councilor James F. Hennessey was a gold pocket knife. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served by the Harvey catering company. The house was prettily decorated with potted palms and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who were the recipients of many costly gifts left on a motor trip to Florida where they intend to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will be pleased to meet their friends in their summer home in Chelmsford after May 1, 1924.

MITCHELL-FROST

Mr. Donald C. Mitchell and Miss Alice Frances Frost of Billerica, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. Wright of Boston road by Rev. J. Harold Dale, pastor of the Congregational church, who performed the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin trimmed with lace and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Miss Mary Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She wore pink georgette and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and roses. Mr. Eugene F. Frost, of Brockton, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and palms. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered by a buffet luncheon. Present at the wedding were guests from Boston, Braintree, Melrose and other cities. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left on an extended wedding trip and upon their return will reside in their new home in Boston road.

FIRE IN CHELMSFORD

Fire discovered shortly before noon yesterday in the storage house of the J. Cushing company in Chelmsford Center, threatened to engulf the building, spreading flames being fanned by a high gale of wind. Prompt discovery of the blaze, which was located directly in the rear of the Cushing offices, prevented a more serious fire. A blazing fat barrel was responsible for the alarm. The damage was slight.

LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT

Lowell Textile Unions to Be Represented at Labor Conference in New York

Lowell textile unions will be represented at an important conference on labor and employment problems of the present day, to be held in New York city next week, starting on Sunday, December 16, and adjourned by the national executive board of the United Textile Workers of America.

John Hanley, of the local executive board of textile union operatives handling U. T. W. affairs in this section of New England, has been summoned with other executives of the Massachusetts-New Hampshire district. He will leave Lowell Saturday and expects to remain in New York until next week Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Mr. Hanley, who is also an active member of the national union executive council, is to present reports from this district, covering organization conditions, wages, hours of labor, condition of union treasuries, membership, programs, etc., and also reveal some of the physical conditions existing, only

Ohio farmers demanding "lower taxes and less legislation" have started caravans of old prairie schooners to Columbus and Washington from different parts of the state. Here is the first wagon getting on its way. It is ready to leave North Lima, near Youngstown, with Mrs. R. H. Byerly, lecturer of the Mahoning County Pomona Grange, holding the reins. She is dressed in the bonnet and hoop skirt her great-grandmother wore when she came to Ohio from Connecticut via covered wagon years ago.

In local textile mills where production has been recently curtailed.

The textile conference will be held at the old familiar New York rallying headquarters, Bible House. President Thomas F. McMahon and other general officers will attend the daily sessions. They are said to be prepared to assist for authority from the union's executive council to carry out plans for a strike organization campaign in the south and "to decide when to proclaim the 48-hour week in effect in that section of the country."

Mr. McMahon has informed council members that many southern workers have enlisted in the U. T. W. organization this year and are prepared to fight for 48-hour week sooner than some of the southern mill-owners expect.

Mr. Hanley will be a member of the committee to draft final plans of campaign and this will closely follow suggestions just received from President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L.

Union organization recruiting efforts are to be centered for the present upon North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, where much New time and industrial capital has been invested in mill and employee's home sites and where certain Lowell textile corporations have new operating establishments of elaborate size and quantity production facilities.

At the New York meeting, the labor situation in Dover, N. H., will also be discussed and reports from all New Hampshire territories as well as the Lowell district, canvassed and acted upon. Vice-President James Starr, of the U. T. W., left New York city for Dover Wednesday night. He will act as President McMahon's representative in the present strike situation and will also act in one other Dover mill shut-down controversy.

The committee handling arrangements for an "open meeting" of the townsmen of Lowell and vicinity, expects to hold the demonstration on the night of Jan. 7 in a local hall. Programs are now being made ready and formal announcements of rally features will be issued later in the month.

BRITISH LIKE BREAKFAST FOODS

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press)—England is to be introduced to breakfast foods in various forms of wheat. A company has been formed to make the breakfast foods from wheat grown in England. At present such breakfast foods are almost entirely imported from Canada with a small percentage coming from the United States. The new factory will produce foods for consumption in Great Britain and the continent, where the sale of this type of breakfast dish is increasing rapidly.

JAPANESE MUSEUM TO BE REPLACED

TOKIO, Dec. 14.—(A.P.)—Baron Okura has announced that he intends to endeavor to replace the great museum which he presented to the nation some years ago, and which was destroyed in the fire following the earthquake.

The collection was one of the chief attractions to foreign visitors in Tokyo and was of enormous value. Many of the rolls cannot now be duplicated. A few were saved, having been removed to a fireproof warehouse as the fire approached. The collection cost Baron Okura about $2,500,000.

No. 3—Opening the Wall

After all players have drawn hands

The previous articles carried us up to the point where the wall had been built, four-sided and solid. Now we will break it and start play. East Wind makes one throw of the two dice, totals the points so thrown, and starts counting counter-clockwise around the wall, commencing with his

GIRLS! EFFECT IS STARTLING

Moisten Your Hair Brush!
Hair becomes Beautiful

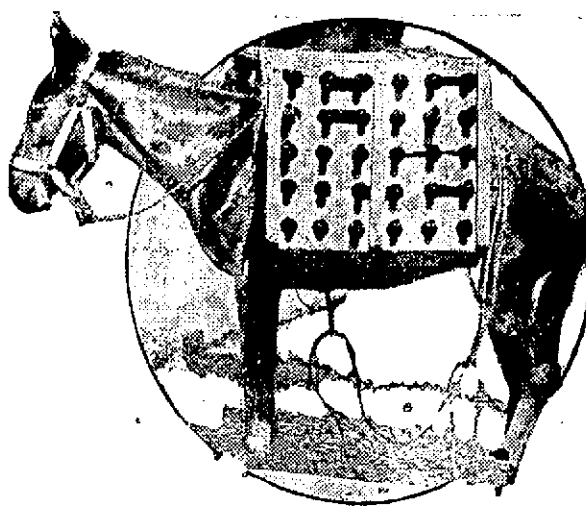

It simply amazes women to see plain, flat, colorless or oily hair instantly appear soft, fluffy, lustrous and abundant. Try it! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Dandergine" and brush it through your hair. You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleaming hair sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance—yet not greasy, oily or sticky. While beautifying the hair "Dandergine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandergine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.—Ad.

After playing a few evenings, the actual counting is obtained as you will learn from experience that East Wall is one, five or nine; South, two, six or ten; West, three, seven or eleven; and North, four, eight or twelve.

Throw Dice Again
Determination of the exact spot to be opened in the wall thus selected is made by another throw of the dice, this time by him whose wall is to be opened. He throws the two dice and the total of the throw is added to the total thrown by East in determining the wall to be opened. Thus if East throw six, the South Wall would be opened. If South then throw five, the wall thrown by East and the five thrown by South would be added, giving a total of 11.

Taking the latter number, he whose wall is to be opened starts counting from the right end of his wall, counts one on each pair of tiles to the left and removes that pair of tiles whose number corresponds to the determined number. In the example given above, it would be the eleventh pair of tiles from the right corner of South's wall, by drawing four tiles (two pairs of the two tiles thus removed are two) from left of the opening. Then thereafter known as "house tiles," South takes the next four, West the next four, East the next four, and finally East draws one on top of the wall just to the right of the opening, the under tile being nearest the opening.

RIGHT TO YOUR DOOR

This is the way they deliver beer in La Paz, Bolivia. And in fact everything else, too. Streets are too hilly for trucks to negotiate. So all goods are carried on the backs of burros or pack mules.

The Draw

Now comes the draw. East starts from the right corner of the opening, by drawing four tiles (two pairs of the two tiles thus removed are two) from left of the opening. Then thereafter known as "house tiles," South takes the next four, West the next four, East the next four, and finally East draws one on top of the wall just to the right of the opening, the under tile being nearest the opening.

more, and so, in turn, do the other players. The draw is finished by East, who draws one extra. Thus each hand contains 13 tiles, except that of East, which contains 14. Each player now arranges his hand by suits, dragons and winds, placing together all those of a kind. Each player should see only his own hand. This can be accomplished by setting his tiles on end and near his own edge of the table, or by the use of racks. The Mah Jongg racks are a contribution of American ingenuity. For 2000 years the Chinese played without accessories, but in one year Americans have added special tables, racks, pencils, score sheets, counter holders, table covers and doubling scales. The doubling scale is on the rack, and enables a player to determine his score at a glance rather than by the sometimes long process of multiplication and addition involved in scoring without racks. Next article: How to win Mah Jongg.

CATECHIST OF KIL-ARNI AT AUDITORIUM SUNDAY

"The Catechist of Kil-Arni," a won-

derful dramatization of missionary life, will be presented in the Memorial Auditorium next Sunday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. The film is not a bare exhibition of natural scenery, not a mere series of educational pictures. It is a lively, entertaining, intensely gripping story, presenting the trials and sorrows, joys and consolations of the missionary in the Far East. An entire afternoon's or evening's entertainment revealing a life that will lift your imagination out of the rush of an American day to a far-away land of lofty mountains and unbroken, sunburned plains, to an empire of 326,000,000 people in which many have found another, in which 230 languages are spoken, in which the heroic missionaries of God are laboring to liberate souls from the bondage of paganism. The afternoon performance Sunday will be for children, while the evening is reserved for adults.

From the leaf-sheaths of the "tree-cleer's tree" of Madagascar a pure and cool supply of water is obtained. The Cyclops were supposed to be a one-eyed race of giants living in Sicily.

Completion of Huge Hudson River Vehicular Tunnel Will Help Considerably

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (by the Associated Press).—Completion of the huge Hudson river vehicular tunnel, to connect the island of Manhattan with New Jersey, will add the 23d underground artery to the great network of subaqueous passageways that radiate from teeming New York and which are as necessary to its swarming life as are the arteries in a man's body.

15 bridges... These tunnels and bridges cannot be equaled by any city in the world.

The bridges are of a total approximate length of 11 miles and the tunnels and tubes each average about three-fourths of a mile. Combined they carry 64 railroad, subway, elevated and surface car trucks, spreading in all directions from Manhattan. In addition there are roadways for vehicular traffic on virtually all the bridges.

Leading all other underground passageways in size will be the new Hudson river vehicular tunnel, which is expected to be ready for use in 1926 at a cost of more than $30,000,000. Each of its twin tubes will measure 30 feet in diameter. It will be 3250 feet long and more than 3000 feet under the river. To carry off the poisonous exhaust gas, from pleasure cars and trucks, a marvelous ventilating system is being installed.

WHEN A FELLER'D LIKE TO SAY WHAT HE THINKS.

OLD TIME OBSERVERS GOT ANSWER IN SKIES

PRAGUE, Dec. 14. (A. P.)—From time to time Prague gives up to some persistent deliver in records of the past that are not without interest. For it is an ancient city and its museums and bookshelves are filled with chronicles of what its people said and did in other centuries. A recent discovery is an old book on astronomy which shows that the men of that day spent no little time in endeavors to read what they called the "enigma of the skies." In other words, their woman-kind.

Based on the influence supposed to be exerted on humans by the constellation of the planets in the month in which they were born, this volume analyzes girls, according to the calendar, as follows:

A girl born in January is very likely to become a good housewife. She will incline to melancholy, but will have a gentle disposition. February girls will be good mothers, and faithful.

March maidens, however, will be loquacious, contentious and quarrelsome, while April babies will grow up to be mercurial and nestle women.

May guarantees merry and good-tempered girls, while June gives them passionate and fiery temperaments, with an inclination to superciliousness. July produces the roses among women, according to this old sage; beautiful but thorny. Born a month later they are amiable and sensible, but rather keen for rich husbands.

Girls born in September are of fine susceptibilities and always ready to help others; they will, therefore, be welcomed everywhere, but should guard against being imposed upon by selfish people. October favors the earth with creatures who surpass all others of the sex as to depth and ardor of love.

Women born in November are kind-hearted and friendly, if they are not it is always the fault of somebody else, never their own. The last month of the year brings forth racy and very good-looking girls. Unfortunately they cannot be recommended to earnest men, for they are very extravagant and always on the hunt for sensations.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL
Ferdinando's celebrated orchestra, playing all the latest dance music, will be the attraction at Associate hall tonight. As a special feature Mr. Ferdinando and Miss Mario Rasca of New York will give an exhibition Spanish dance. Special electric effects will add to the beauty and charm of this well known specialty. Miss Rasca has been prominent in vaudeville circles and has distinguished herself among the foremost solo dancers on the stage. This orchestra, combined with the dancing numbers, should prove to be a great drawing card and no doubt a large crowd will avail itself of the opportunity to enjoy a pleasant evening. Saturday night there will be a battle of music between Al Hallett's orchestra and Miner-Doy's troupe.

FOR NEW COURT BUILDING

We believe that Representative Thomas J. Corbett has taken the right step in planning to present to the legislature a bill authorizing the county commission to borrow a sum not exceeding $400,000 for the erection of a district court building in this city.

There can be no question as to the great need of such a building nor as to Lowell's right to such consideration on the part of the county. As Mr. Corbett shows, Lowell pays one-fiftieth of the total tax collected by the county in the course of the year and has, therefore, a right to have a county building for the local district court. The city of Malden, which pays only five per cent. of the county tax levy, has been provided with a very fine district court building of which Lowell pays 15 per cent. of the cost. Of course, the county cannot meet the necessities for court buildings in all the cities at once; but it is high time that the needs of Lowell should receive due attention.

The present quarters rented from the city of Lowell in the Market street building for the district court are not at all what they should be. In case Mr. Corbett's bill becomes law and a county building be erected here, then the city can more conveniently remodel the old building or erect a new one on its site. The location is very convenient and desirable for the police station. If the county gives us a district court building, the city could well afford to erect a new and up-to-date police station on the site of the old Market street structure.

This is a project that should receive the cordial backing of the members of the general court from Lowell and vicinity.

SEEN AND HEARD

The high cost of Santa Claus is worth it.

With the exception of that "Yes, No" song 1923 goes down in history as a success.

About 4,000,000 autos were made this year. They are new, but walkers they are second hand.

"America, you are getting us" came by radio from Europe. Yes, that seems to be the trouble.

A Thought

The miser, poor fool, not only starves his body, but also his own soul. —Theodore Parker.

He Was Well Off

Overboard in the locker room of the Lockport Golf club a day or two ago: Voice behind a row of lockers: "What time did you get in this morning, fellow?" "Well, it was 3 o'clock, and gee whizz, my wife was certainly sore at me. She wouldn't talk to me and hadn't even spoken to me since." Voice from other end of room: "How would you like to trade her for one who would talk to you when you get in at 3 in the morning?" —Detroit News.

Soft For the Boss

A man whose job it was to break a huge piece of rock kept hammering at it without result. The foreman watched him for a while and got impatient. "Hey, you," he said at last, "you've been tapping that rock for half an hour. Give me your sledge." With one mighty blow he split it in two. "There you are," he said, "see how easy it is." "Why shouldn't it be?" replied the other, "after I made it soft for you."

Scheme Didn't Work

Mr. Flubdub called on his physician, outlined some "cure" symptoms and then came craftily to the point. "Doc, I need a prescription—you know." "No," responded the doctor, firmly. "I don't know. Alcohol would do you no good, and you got none of it from me. On his way out Mr. Flubdub fired a parting shot. "You may be a good doctor, but you're a damned poor business man." "Why do you say that?" "Don't you know the customer is always right?" Nevertheless he went away without a prescription.

Admirable Speech

Hitherto the proceedings of the Filipino legislature have been in Tagalog or in Spanish, although English is technically the official language. But the last election returned to the legislature a number of young men educated in English schools in the Philippines or in the United States. They are intent upon breaking up the older generation of Filipino public men, who looked their early training under the Spanish regime. During the session of the legislature in the gallery of the House recently when English was used for the first time in debate, the speech was admirable in point of brevity and can be reported in full. It was addressed by one of the members to a colleague on the floor, and was: "Sh down, boy!"

The Last Question

The great meeting for the discussion of women's rights and wrongs had gone cheerily along its way to a successful conclusion. Votes of thanks had been proposed by everybody to everybody else and at last "Mr. Chairman" arose to ask if anybody in the audience would like to put any questions. "Ask any questions you like," he announced, "and I shall be only too glad to answer them." There was silence for a moment and the chairman was preparing to leave the platform when a stoutly dressed woman arose at the back of the hall. "I should like to put a question," she said. "Certainly," answered the chairman. "What is it?" "I should like to know, Mr. Chairman, where you got that beautiful silk from which your dress is made?"

Can You Answer?

Years ago the compiler of "Beck with a Minnie" lived in New Haven. The white tail hat which he wore made him a conspicuous figure, and he pointed to this while he addressed the "Alumni" front cover. It is from the publisher that a reader has seen the following rhyme under the question, "Can you answer?" Where can a man buy a cap for his knee? Or a key to the lock of his hair? Can his eyes be called an academy? Because there are pupils there? In the crown of his head? What goes on four feet? Who travels the bridge to his nose? Can he use when shining the roof of his house? The ends on the end of his toes? Can the creek of his shoe be sent to jail? If yes, where did he do it? How does he sharpen his shoulder blades? If he is lapped if I know, do you? Can he sit in the shade of the palm of his hand? Or be laid on the drum of his ear? Can the cuff of his leg be the core on his ear? If so, what do you grow corn on the ear?

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Very many unknown persons may be in the city seen to think that they are in added prestige in owning a house in some other town than Lowell, or particularly at this time of giving presents in a box with the name of a town from some town in Boston stamped on the box. I have seen many of my friends make purchases in Lowell and not know where they are going. I have seen many of my friends make purchases in Lowell and not know where they are going. I have seen many of my friends make purchases in Lowell and not know where they are going.

DIPLOMA MILLS

The "graduation" of the diploma mill should be exposed and those who have been running them should be exposed. These mills are the source of many of the diplomas that are given to students who have not even attended a class. They are the source of many of the diplomas that are given to students who have not even attended a class.

IMMIGRATION AND LABOR

We are told that an investigation of migration and labor supply has been begun by the national bureau of economic research council, outlining the bureau's purpose in the undertaking, a supervising official states that there are today few public questions on which men now differ more sharply than on the wisdom of maintaining, relaxing or abolishing the present restrictions upon immigration into the United States. Light is expected to be shed by the coming investigation on such questions as these: To what degree and how promptly does immigration respond to an industrial boom or emigration to a depression? Have fluctuations in migration been so timed that they have increased or decreased the intensity of the upward swing of the cycle? Has the increase of immigration in periods of activity tended to prolong these periods by maintaining the balance of labor costs per unit of output? Has immigration in large numbers

The annual Christmas fair followed by a parish supper was held in St. John's church yesterday afternoon and evening, with a wealth of suitable Christmas gifts displayed on the festively decorated tables. For the serving of the supper the tables were appropriately dressed with scarlet poinsettia and evergreen branches and red candles in gold candlesticks.

The committees and workers in charge of the fair were as follows: Dining room, Mrs. John Pahn, chairman; Mrs. Fred W. Noyes, Mrs. A. E. Moore, Mrs. Thos. Mather, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. George Pass and Mrs. Nelson. With their exhibits of toys and other Christmas gifts are attracting throngs of children these days who are excited over the prospect of the near visit of the gentle old Santa. It is time well spent to stop and listen to the exchange of ideas and wishes among these tots, with their suggestion of the days gone by when the listener, too, used to go window shopping before the 25th of the month.

Novel and interesting is the trip which is being made in successive stages by the Lowell people. Starting at the Merrimack river near the point where the old Middlesex canal ended they are following the course of that ancient waterway through Billerica, Wilmington and Woburn to see the traces which still remain to mark the spots and scenes through which at one time canal boats did a flourishing business. Many more than would be expected are the vestiges which still remain, even of sufficient depth to leave little doubt that it is part of the old canal. The stretch in Woburn along the railway tracks everyone is familiar with, but it is not generally known that there are places between Silver Lake and this city where there are sections of just as great size still intact. The people making the trip are Edward B. Carney and Mrs. Carney, Charles H. Hobson, Frederick Chase and Mrs. Chase.

It is not, perhaps, known that the present Christmas seals which are now being sold, have no connection whatever with the Red Cross. The proceeds of this sale are donated to the National Tuberculosis association, for aid in the prevention of that disease. Although there is a cordial co-operation between the two organizations, and although the seal sale is supposed to follow the close of the annual Red Cross roll call, for enrollment of members, the Red Cross does not issue and has no connection with the Christmas seals. Members of the Red Cross are at liberty, however, to aid in the disposal of these seals, but the organization has no financial interest in the anti-tuberculosis movement.

PUBLICATION OF "JUNIOR CITIZEN" POSTPONED

No press-run troubles, no "strikes," no cold ink blurs of the printed page were responsible for today's non-appearance of "The Junior Citizen," the long-heralded new publication that was to present to public patronage some full-ripened fruits of numerous deft and laborious children of the Charles W. Morey school, Pine and Wilder streets. Bluntly, "The Junior Citizen" did not leap into the crowding news channels of Lowell today, but there was a good reason, cheerfully explained by the genial, hard-working Morey school principal, Mr. William W. Dennett.

Not all of the splendid essays and bits of quaint, self-composed offerings from the school boys and girls, reached the publishing office in season to be "made up" for this December number—the first and only one still in perspective. Principal Dennett felt that the pupils' offerings could not be "made ready" in time to present a publication to the public that would be indicative of modern scholastic productions along similar lines, therefore until all contributions are in and the "make-up" of the new school magazine is fully decided upon, there will be no "Junior Citizen" for fathers and mothers of Morey school children to read and gloat over until about a week from today.

ANNUAL ADVICE

Shop for Christmas early,
Get upon the job,
Duck the hurly-burly
Of the surging mob.
In that final scurry
Shopping is a row,
Rid yourself of worry—
Do it now!

Shop for Christmas early,
Save the hurried clerk
(Be it lad or girlie)
From much overwork;
Wait not till they're dropping
With fatigue—allow
Time for Christmas shopping—
Do it now!

Season after season,
Year on year on year,
I have sung with reason
What I'm singing here.
Dodge the hurly-burly,
I can tell you how,
SHOP FOR CHRISTMAS EARLY—
DO IT NOW!

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Something must be done to lessen the air jam! That's what radio experts say. A group called on President Coolidge urging him to ask Secretary Hoover to call a conference, the purpose of which would be to formulate new wave lengths for commercial transmission so as not to interfere with broadcasting of entertainment. Coolidge approved the proposed conference. SOUVENIR DINNER AND
DANCE BY AD CLUB

What promises to be a most pretentious affair is the annual souvenir dinner and dance by the Lowell Advertising Club New Year's eve, Dec. 31, at the Memorial Auditorium. This will be the second souvenir dinner and dance by this live Lowell organization of boosters. Those who attended last year's affair will long remember it and from all indications this year's event will surpass last year's success. Over 300 tickets have been already reserved and taken for this dinner and the committee feels certain that the allotted number, 400, will be gone very soon. Ad club members have responded quickly for tickets as such a wonderful time was held last year and so many people were unable to get tickets for the dinner, that those who were there and those who were left "out in the cold" were right on the job this year for tickets.

It was announced today that the club has been fortunate in securing as principal speaker, a man who has a national reputation as an after-dinner speaker, Professor Austin H. MacCormick of Bowdoin college, Brunswick.

At the recent convention of the New Advertising clubs held in Portland, Me., Mr. MacCormick delighted the hearers with a bright, breezy, interesting, humorous discourse on "Advertising." He will give a real up-to-the-minute talk on "Advertising" at the coming dinner. In addition a fine musical program has been arranged, many new stunts and surprises planned, dancing to an augmented orchestra, in fact, everything is being done to make the "Souvenir Dinner dance of the Lowell Advertising club, 1923-24, one long to be remembered. The committee in charge of the dinner, follows:

Frank Ricard, chairman; Edward J. Cooney, advisory chairman; reception, Chief Edward F. Saunders, chairman; Hon. James B. Casey, Rose Jordan, Hartford, Josephine E. Bout Resembles Workout of Baseball Battery, With McCreary the Pitcher and Thompson the Catcher—Frankie Hebert Beats "Eabe" Adams in Feature Number

Jack Thompson of St. Joe, Mo., served as a punching bag for Battling McCreary of Boston for six rounds in the final event of the bloody club show in Crescent rink last night. At this point Referee Jerry Moore of Boston wisely intervened and halted activities and declared McCreary the winner.

The bout was disappointing. It was more like a workout of a baseball batter than a fight, with McCreary serving as the pitcher and Thompson, the catcher. McCreary threw every kind of a punch known to pugilism and Thompson caught every one of them.

African dodger. He seemed almost superhuman, the way he took vicious sacks on the jaw and in the midriff. Once he dropped his hands and invited McCreary to punch his midriff. McCreary let go a terrible swing, throwing every ounce of weight and energy

Thompson flush, but he never budged. McCarthy looked good. He tried hard to make it a fight. He tantalized his heavier opponent and he shot projectiles at him and to him from every conceivable angle, but the attack seemed to take more out of McCarthy than Thompson. He was almost exhausted from hitting the big fellow. Once he tipped Thompson to the floor, but this only brought him up again to receive another fusillade of blows.

Thompson attained his reputation as a sparring partner for Champion Jack Dempsey. He showed absolutely no skill as a boxer but he did show championship assimilative powers. No doubt he proved a great target for Champion Jack.

At the outset of last night's farcical scene, Thompson's sluggish attitude and the way he shouldered McCarthy's punches like a duck sheds color, but as the rounds were told and the battering continued incessantly the bout became a monotonous repetition and recalled the spectacle of a man taking candy from a baby, and all were pleased when the referee intervened.

It was the first heavyweight fight here in years, and Doc Dodge says it will be the last for as many more.

The sent-down and the preliminaries, however, were all to the merry. Particularly classed was the eight-round battle between Frankie Herbert of Lowell and Babe Adams of Lawrence. Herbert giving away weight to his opponent overcame this obstacle and put up a whirlwind exhibition of fighting. The Lowell pugilist proved a revelation and was fought like a topknotcher and was fought like a topknotcher quite a kicking. Adams got down and while he held his own in the future for him within the squared circle.

The first preliminary was short and sweet, with Johnny Gray of Nashua stopping Tommy McCarthy of Lowell in two rounds. The other preliminary brought Tommy Leonard of Lowell and Johnny McBride of Lawrence together for the second time. In the former meeting Leonard won in the opinion of all but the judges. Last night he convinced the judges of his superiority and carried off the honors. It was a poppery number with both boys working hard and earnestly all the way. The score now stands one and one.

It was announced that Leg. Babson

Only part of the headline, he was out-boxed in the closing stages. Hebert's high class work made a great sell with the fans and many predict a bright future for the young fighter.

O'CONNELL FAILS TO SHOW

In a 12-round match tonight at Madison Square Garden, who holds the European lightweight title, have knocked out three opponents in a row since coming to the United States in September and gained prominence by securing an agreement with Tex Rickard for three fights, the last to be with Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, next summer, if the South American continues upward climb. The first of these contract fights is with Shugene a referee of unquestioned integrity and who retained his powers, and announced that Welsh had won the fight and the championship by half a point, the narrowest margin by which a title ever changed hands.

Welsh, who has in America would be called a draw, regardless of the rules under which he fought, New York Giants drew a lesson in January O'Connell, the $75,000 beauty from the coast. National league pitchers claim that if pitched to properly he will never break any new records. In the field, O'Connell has always been a rather feeble sister.

NEW STADIUMS COSTLY

While the new football stadiums are wonderful if lifted several times during the season, they become quite a burden if the eleven has a bad year and fails to draw. The new stadiums have caused each college institution to try to draw at least three worth while games at home. Good attractions are necessary to fill the stadiums.

KILLING OF WOMAN—IS MYSTERY

By N.E.A. Service
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 13.—Another mysterious murder is added to this city's list of unsolved crimes. Kidnaped by an assassin who took her away in an automobile, Mrs. Helen Wheeler, 22, was murdered early the morning of November 28.

MRS. HELEN WHEELER.

Her body was found between the railroad tracks under a bridge near the city's outskirts, by railroad workmen.

Mrs. Wheeler, a widow, left her father's home early in the evening preceding the murder. Shortly after midnight a loud scream was heard in a street near her home.

A neighbor looked from his window and saw a man driving a touring car away. He held one hand on the wheel and the other, the witness said, held some other person.

The woman's hat was found in front of the witness' house. On the bridge, above the spot where her body was found, police picked up a broken strand of pearls. Nearby were the wheel tracks of an automobile, turned toward the guard rail of the bridge. Those, and a few footprints, are the only clues.

Golden eagles eat many small rodents and larger animals such as fawns and lambs.

MEETING AT THE BARTLETT SCHOOL

The regular monthly meeting and social of the Parent-Teacher association at the Bartlett school, was held last evening in the main assembly hall, with a large attendance of fathers and mothers who came to visit the place where their children are taught, and the teachers who instruct them.

There were three booths located outside the hall at which members of the literary club, the art club, and the school Girl Scouts, presided and sold articles of their own making such as cards, flowers of cloth and small things suitable for Christmas.

Following the main program and at its finish, the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Mary L. Wallace gave several musical selections. The girls of the junior high school were represented by their glee club under the leadership of Miss Amy Tucke, and with Miss Mary Wallace accompanying, rendered several light vocal pieces. The third grade pupils put on a calisthenic drill after which Miss Helen Hallahan entertained with a solo dance typical of Spain.

The concluding event on the program was James E. Donnelly, who sang several selections.

After the entertainment a social hour was enjoyed in the lower part of the school, with all the classrooms thrown open in order that the parents might see the places where their children received instruction.

MOTORCYCLE REGISTRATION
Motorcycle owners will be able to secure 1924 registration plates from the local office of the registry of motor vehicle in the Monahan building within a few days, according to Chief Clerk Charles McDermott. A number of these plates are on their way to Lowell and as soon as they are received it will be possible to grant registrations to this class of motor vehicle owners.

GIRL IN ILLINOIS SEEKS FATHER HERE

In a letter to The Sun, Miss Virginia Bertka Marquis of 711 East Reynolds street, Springfield, Ill., asks the aid of this paper in locating her father, Mr. Napoleon Marquis, address unknown, although a resident of Lowell when last heard of. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of said party kindly notify this paper or Miss Marquis, above address.

MURDER VICTIM AND ACCUSED

MRS. ORA BELLE TOMPKINS.

E. RAY TOMPKINS.

A shallow grave in a swamp at Donkey bay, north of Milwaukee, Wis., has given up its secret. From it authorities removed the decapitated body of Mrs. Ora Belle Tompkins (left). Her husband, E. Ray Tompkins (right), wealthy real estate operator and former normal school instructor, has confessed to the murder, according to police. One of his former pupils was arrested and questioned on another charge, growing out of her alleged associations with Tompkins. She later was released on bail.

LYNCH STRONG AT 122

When Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, knocked out Eddie Coulon of New Orleans in the third round recently, he weighed 122 pounds, the old featherweight limit. At this weight Lynch looked great and fought in old-time form. Whether he will continue to look great when he scales 11 at the bantamweight limit is another thing.

BAZAAR OPENS AT Y.W.C.A. BUILDING

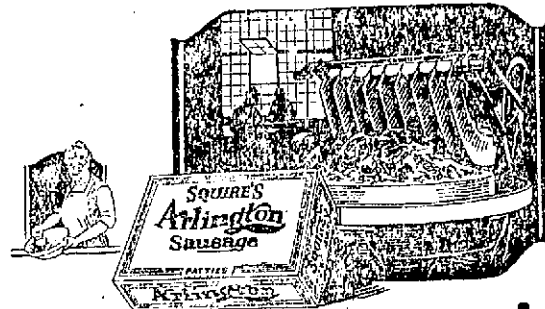

A two-day bazaar under the auspices of the High School Girl Reserves was opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the downstairs living room at the Y.W.C.A. building in John street. A fine assortment of dainty articles of wax, and Christmas gifts were put on sale and the tables, arrayed in holiday attire were well patronized. An orchestra composed of girls from the Junior High club furnished music this afternoon and will also give their services tomorrow afternoon. The proceeds of this sale will be donated to the Girl Reserve mid-winter conference. Last year the conference was held in Greenwich, Conn., with over 350 girls present representing more than 20 New England associations. Out of the large representation the Lowell girls won the silver loving cup and are equally anxious to win the prize again this year.

The tables this afternoon were in charge of the following young ladies of the Lowell and Haverhill clubs: Marian Fletcher, Jean Palmer, Harriet Bancroft, Arleen Warren and Grace Van Dyne, Barbara Johnston, Mildred Kanyon, Dorcas Johnston, Evelyn Hetherick, Evelyn Warner, Evelyn Peterson and Gladys Driver. Tomorrow Annette Pease, Gretta McPherson, Marian Fletcher and Myrtle Jeter will take charge from the Tri-H club.

NON-SINGING SHORTSTOP
Barney Dreyfus says he's hunting for a shortstop who can't sing. Rabbit Maraville, who has held down that position for several years for the Pirates, has a pretty good voice. Dreyfus insists the Rabbit was more concerned about harmony off the ball field than on.

Something New! Arlington Sausage Patties

Have you ever wished you could get good sausage patties? Many a New England housewife has asked for Arlington Sausage in meat form like the sausage mother used to make. You will like the new Arlington Sausage Patties.

Remember how mother used to mix the choice lean cuts of fresh pork with savory spices in a wooden bowl, and chop them together? Arlington Sausage is as mother used to make it—chopped, not ground! If any other method would improve sausage, then the Arlington would be made that way.

Arlington Sausage Patties are genuine Arlington Sausage meat with the same delicious flavor. Sold in one pound cartons at the better stores.

EUROPE'S AUTHORS IN NEW YORK PLAYS

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Statistics recently circulated stated that horses, in large measure freed, because of motor power, from the labor that made them beasts of burden, were increasing rather than diminishing in number. But now comes Professor E. L. Furlong, curator of the vertebrate collection at the University of California, with the revelation that the horse will be virtually extinct on the American continent in another century.

Professor Furlong is so confident of his supposition that he has started for posterity a collection of all modern specimens of the equine family. His collection will rest in the museum of paleontology, along with the bones of the three-toed horse and other prehistoric kin.

Recalling the dominating position of motor conveyances in the cities, Professor Furlong adds: "Daily the tractor and the automobile are taking the place of the horse in rural life. As the usefulness of the horse passes, so will the necessity for his existence. Before many years the use of a horse for the purposes with which he has been identified since time immemorial will be a curiosity. In another hundred years you may find horses in zoos. I am sure you will not find them anywhere else."

TELEPHONE COMPANY TO DISPLAY FLAGS

For the purpose of emphasizing the slogan of the Bell system, "One Policy, One System, Universal Service," nearly 150 Bell system flags, bearing the Bell seal on a dark blue background, will be displayed in a few days on all the buildings owned and leased by the New England Telephone & Telegraph company. National flags for such buildings were provided some years ago.

Similar action has been taken by all of the telephone companies associated in the Bell system throughout the United States. These flags are of various sizes. The national flag will be displayed upon all suitable occasions of national or state importance, and the Bell system flag especially on an-universities that mark the progress of the telephone industry since the telephone principle was discovered in Boston on June 2, 1875, and upon occasions of local significance. These anniversary dates are:

Jan. 25, marking the opening of the transcontinental line between New York and San Francisco in 1915; Feb. 28, organization of the American Telephone & Telegraph company in 1884; March 10, the first complete, intelligible sentence transmitted by telephone in 1876; April 11, opening of the Key West-Havana submarine telephone cable in 1921; May 5, opening the New York-Denver toll line in 1911; June 2, invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell in 1876; July 16, birthday of Theodore N. Vail, who was born in 1815; Aug. 27, transmission of speech by radio from Arlington, Va., to Panama in 1915; Sept. 29, speech transmitted by radio from New York to Mare Island, California, in 1915; Oct. 10, organization of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company in 1883; Nov. 2, organization of the Telephone Pioneers of America in Boston, 1911; Dec. 31, opening of the Boston-Philadelphia line in 1884.

Tia Juana, Mexico, again is the mecca of society folk of southern California and sportsmen and horse lovers from all quarters. The winter races are on again. And Tia Juana, from all reports, is just about as wide open as it ever was. The eighteenth amendment is something they've only heard of in a casual way, down there. Here is a closeup of a section of the crowd on hand the opening day. Chiava, a rank-outsider, with Banfrell up, won the initial handicap at 40 to 1 in a massed finish.

INSTRUCTION IN THE DRAMATIC ART

A large number of inquiries have been received by Manager Barhydt of the Lowell Opera House, regarding the free school of instruction in the dramatic art which is to be opened shortly after the New Year under the direction of Jack Kaybold. Inquiries for methods of enrollment have been received in flattering numbers with both sexes about evenly represented among the writers.

MEN! A SENSATIONAL EVENT!

Here Is the Story:

This has been a dull season for clothing manufacturers.

Many of them are stuck with huge stocks.

Several of these manufacturers wanted to unload quickly by selling direct to the public at less than wholesale prices.

Instead of selling direct from their factories, they asked us if they could use our stores as an outlet.

We agreed under two conditions—First, every garment must be all wool and of the latest style.

Second—The retail price to the public must be less than the wholesale manufacturing price.

They agreed to these conditions, and as a result we are now starting the most sensational event in men's clothing you have ever witnessed.

What's more, we have inspected these garments and have O.K'd them all. In fact, every one is guaranteed by us—Monroe Clothes Shops—which means money back if not satisfied!

Take our advice, men, and come early!

LOWELL ROTARY CLUB

Observance of "Presidents' Night" by Rotarians in Liberty Hall

"Presidents' Night" was observed by the members of the Lowell Rotary club last evening in the form of a novelty dinner which was served in Liberty hall at the Auditorium. There was a table for each of the four presidents that the club has had since its inception, and at each of these tables sat the men who joined the club during that particular administration. Very little business was presented to detract from the pleasure of the evening, which was designed solely to give the Rotarians a chance to see the past presidents in action once more.

After the meal had been served, Mr. Davis announced that each president should once more have a chance to handle the meeting and show the manner in which the club had been run while he was at its head. First on the list was Harry G. Pollard, and he had the members at his table introduce each other, with many polite selections and good-natured jollity. Then in turn H. W. Thomson and H. Hutchins Parker assumed charge of the general and in turn each contributed some original means of entertaining the others present. From ex-President Parker's table, Allan Thomas presented a one-act skit in which he assumed all three characters, and which was greeted with howls of delight from his audience.

The "banquet" also had prepared a special entertainment, which consisted of a special song by the ensemble, and recitations by Walter Wilson and Paul Murphy.

Speakers were provided from each

table and gave interesting talks on subjects connected with the work of the Rotary club throughout the world. The speakers were Willard A. Parker, "The Rotary Code of Ethics," Benjamin S. Pouzner, "Ideals and Meaning of Rotary," Harry Pollard, "The History of the Lowell Rotary Club," and Dr. H. E. Davis, "Present Work of Rotary."

The only business of the evening concerned itself with a few remarks by various members on different phases of the coming Christmas holidays, which is to be held in the Auditorium for the benefit of local charitable organizations. A large attendance is hoped for at the regular meeting next Tuesday, which will be the last meeting before the new year.

NEW FURNITURE STORE OPENS TOMORROW

A new furniture store, crammed full of home furnishings of all descriptions, opens tomorrow in the recently remodeled four-story building at Central and Middle streets. "Garfield's Home Furnishers of New England" stands ready to supply the wants of all home-keepers of Lowell and vicinity from this store, the large stock being supplemented by a big five-story warehouse on Concord street.

A novel credit system is one of the features of this store which uses the slogan "We furnish your home. You pay as you like." Quality merchandise at moderate prices is offered in abundance and special prices will be in vogue for the first week that the store is open. It is desired that several thousand new accounts will be opened here and that the special values being offered as inducements will serve to create an abundance of good will for the new store.

Mr. L. C. Claiborne, an old-time furniture man who was for many years manager of a big furniture store in Hartford, Conn., is manager of the new store. He is assisted by Counselor Fred Sautter and a large sales and

WILL MAKE TRADE REGULATIONS WITH RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Establishment of trade relations with Russia by the United States, was urged by Representative Frear, republican, today, in a speech in the house, detailing his investigations during a visit to that country last summer. "If fair trial of a trade agreement with Russia proved mutually beneficial," Frear declared, "recognition of the soviet government is a matter of course."

Settlement of the obligations of Russia to this country then could be referred to arbitration, Mr. Frear said.

The Wisconsin member presented these conclusions:

"Russia measures up with two thirds of the European countries in stability and promise."

"Its financial budget system is more certain and business-like than systems possessed by a majority of European countries."

FIRE ON BRIDGE

A section of the wooden planking of the School street bridge caught fire this morning. A telephone alarm was sent in to the fire department at 8:50 o'clock and the blaze extinguished before any considerable damage was done. It is believed that the fire started from a cigarette stub carelessly thrown onto the wooden planking.

POLICE IN CONFERENCE WITH MAYOR TODAY

A committee of police officers, headed by Edward P. Flanagan, waited upon Mayor John J. Donovan today in the interests of more pay for patrolmen in the Lowell police department.

The police for some time have had it in mind to seek more pay, although as yet no definite request has been formulated.

The conference with the mayor was for the purpose of determining his attitude should a formal request materialize in the near future. The mayor gave the officers a lengthy hearing and took the matter under advisement.

LA FOLLETTE ASSAILS COOLIDGE'S MESSAGE

MATHEW WIS, Dec. 14.—President Coolidge's first message to congress was declared to be an able, concise and frank presentation of the stand pat, reactionary theory of government. In a statement by United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, made public here today.

There is nothing in the message that will offend the "most sensitive" of the "big business interests," the statement said.

"If it be courageous to champion the interests of the railroads, the profiteers, the coal magnates, and our other overlords against the mass of the people," the Wisconsin senator declared, "then in all fairness it must be conceded that the president has earned the tributes to his courage so warmly accorded him by many of the newspapers of the country."

"There is little in the message that will satisfy the mass of the American people," Mr. La Follette stated that president's recommendations in respect to agriculture in effect tells the farmer to help himself and to pull himself out of the difficulties into which the "deflation" policy, the "cash-cumulative" law and other acts of the federal government have thrown him.

GERMAN REPRESENTATIVE TO MEET POINCARÉ

PARIS, Dec. 14. (By the Associated Press)—The recent announcement from Berlin that Germany intended to seek direct diplomatic contact with France over the status of the Ruhr and the Rhineland was followed today by a request from Herr Von Hoesch, the German charge here, that Premier Poincaré receive him. It was announced this afternoon that M. Poincaré would see the German representative tomorrow.

REVERSES DECISION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Interstate Commerce commission today reversed a previous decision in which it had laid down the broad principle that no further railway construction should be authorized to open new coal mines. In its original finding, handed down last spring, the commission refused the Virginia railway authority to extend its Guyandotte river branch a distance of slightly over a mile in order to reach mines of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. Today's decision declared that present and future public convenience and necessity required the new construction involved, and authorized the railroads to proceed.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—The socialist government of Saxony has resigned, following the withdrawal of the support of the democratic party.

CHRISTIAN CHARITY

Rev. Dr. McGarry Gave Inspiring Talk to Knights of Columbus

The feature of the Knights of Columbus meeting last evening was a discourse upon charity by Rev. J. J. McGarry, D.C.L., rector of St. Patrick's church. The reverend gentleman's lecture was most interesting and inspiring. He quoted the apostle to show the concept of charity as a Christian virtue. He outlined the purposes of the Catholic charity bureau recently established, and complimented very highly the work of the guild conducted in connection with the local council of the Knights of Columbus. In spite of all the welfare associations and all the legislation designed to remove the causes of poverty, there is still a very wide field for charitable work, and the speaker referred to a variety of cases arising from the conditions of life in practically every city in which a great many unfortunates suffering from want and other forms of misery need the relief which those who have the means can afford to give and should give as a Christian duty.

He paid a high tribute to the work done by the guild in rescuing boys, often the victims of environment, and often liable to be sent to reform institutions for minor and even trivial offenses. He had seen a statement from the head of a reform institution, to the effect that a high percentage of the inmates were sent out "reformed." He didn't believe it, for from his own investigation he knows that some of the prisons and reformatories are universities of crime from which the convicts

WASHINGTON TRIP IS CALLED OFF

It may be definitely stated that there will be no trip of a sub-committee of the school committee to Washington, or any other place, for that matter, for the purpose of gathering data which might be of assistance in the formulation of plans for a new grammar school in the Edson district.

James H. Riley, a member of this sub-committee, said today there will be no trip and in this connection gave out the following statement: "I was appointed a member of the sub-committee on the Edson school at no personal solicitation. I never have made any plans which contemplated a trip to Washington or any other place as a member of this sub-committee."

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Selection of the Rhode Island country club links championship has met with satisfaction generally among women golfers of the nation. Mrs. R. Arnold Jackson, for the 1924 women's national golf committee, declared today. Yesterday Mrs. Jackson sent a petition to the United States Golf association requesting the date for the event to be set for the second week in September.

The women voted for a September date for the tournament. Mrs. Jackson said, in an effort to avoid bad weather. The weather in October, she pointed out, always was uncertain in the east.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE
Miss Mary Sullivan, of 6 Moulton street, was knocked down by an automobile operated by John J. McMillin, of East Chelmsford, at about 8 o'clock last evening on Fletcher street. She was taken to the Corporation hospital where it was found that her injuries were not serious.

LOWELL TUBERCULOSIS COUNCIL MEETING

The Lowell Tuberculosis council, at a business meeting held at the chamber of commerce rooms, Wednesday, voted to enlarge the council membership, as advised by the State Tuberculosis league, in order to include all surrounding towns.

Miss Blodan, local tuberculosis nurse, reported supervising 165 cases in her district last month. Miss Marshall, in charge of nutritional work locally, reported that successful clinics have been held weekly with good results. The latter has also made home visits regularly, teaching girls and mothers how to prepare proper foods for members of families under treatment. "Girls have also come in to Miss Marshall at council headquarters from physicians, who desire to have her visit certain patients and instruct them in the best methods of preparing healthful foods. Nourishment for children has been especially desired and Miss Marshall has found much to do in this particular line of humane activities."

Lowell council executives announce that Miss Marshall may be reached by telephone at the Lowell Gold, Dutton street, the number being 2124.

Treasurer W. N. Goodell reported that financial returns from the tuberculosis Christmas seal campaign are still coming in, the total being about the same as last year at this time.

Attention is called by the council to the sale of certain seals in Lowell that have no connection with tuberculosis campaigning. "The seals being liberally sold from door to door by children, in most cases, are similar in appearance to the authorized tuberculosis seals, but none of the money collected by the distribution of the other seals or stamps, goes to aid tuberculosis work. Some seals of the Christmas mailing stamp variety now being made in Lowell, according to officials of the local tuberculosis council, are manufactured by a private New York publishing concern for commercial gain. These seals are lithographed so as to closely represent in appearance the authorized national tuberculosis Christmas seals."

All red seals now being sold by Lowell school children—and many are now being distributed in all sections of the city by eager youths of both sexes—are the regulation tuberculosis health seals and bear double-barred official red crosses.

The school children selling these official seals are trying to equal their sales' records of last year, which amounted to about $1,000. The local council has asked the public to cooperate in this genuine campaign to guard the community health. Julia W. Stevens, of 29 Pentucket avenue, is the active local council secretary.

COTTAGE HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire early this morning completely destroyed a small cottage house located on the old McNamara farm just beyond Cunney's corner on Lakeview avenue. The fire was discovered by a passerby and an alarm sent in to the Dragon fire department shortly before 1 o'clock. The fire had considerable headway before being discovered and by the time the apparatus arrived the building was a mass of flames. The tenant of the building was not at home last night, it being the opinion of neighbors that he is visiting in Haverhill.

MRS. MERCIER WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

The condition of Mrs. Margaret Mercier, aged about 70 years, of 30 Church street, who was injured by an automobile last night, is reported today at St. John's hospital as fairly comfortable. Mrs. Mercier was knocked down and run over by a machine operated by Lawrence Robbins of Waverest on Church street about 7 o'clock last night. She was taken to St. John's hospital where it is reported that she is suffering from multiple bruises, a fracture of the leg, and a possible fracture of the skull.

DENIAL MADE BY GREB

Did Not Make Accusations Against Judges Who Acted in Tunney Fight

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, world's middleweight boxing champion, who lost a decision to Gene Tunney last Monday night in a contest for the American light heavyweight title, today sent the following letter to newspapers: "I take this opportunity to deny the rumor floating around New York, that I made certain accusations against the judges who acted at my fight with Gene Tunney, Dec. 10. While I personally thought I won, the majority thought I lost and I abide by the decision. "I have always felt that I received fair treatment at the hands of the New York commission and will always be willing to box in New York state while boxing is governed by the type of men who are at the head of it today."

SALES PROBLEM CLASH

The weekly meeting of the sales problem class of the university extension course will be held tonight in the office of the Lowell Electric Light corporation. Several features will be put on this evening by John J. Morgan, the instructor, and each member of the class is permitted to bring a friend.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS
HOLD MEETING

Lowell Life Underwriters' association, at a well attended meeting yesterday afternoon, with James P. Heron, superintendent of the Metropolitan company, presiding as newly elected president, discussed many interesting matters covering insurance programs for the New Year. Several members offered suggestions for 1924 programs that were accepted.

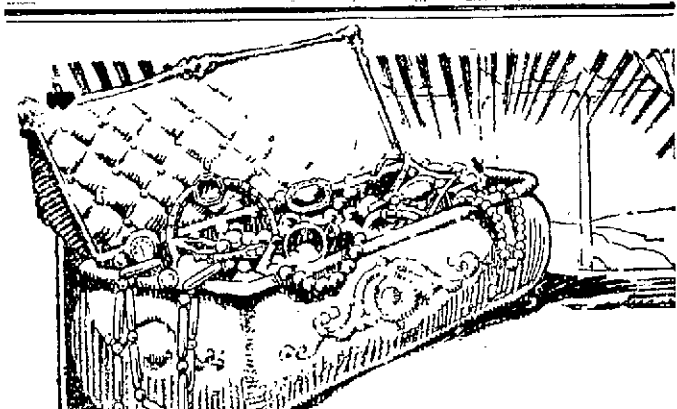

Among the speakers were W. R. Nealon, deputy superintendent of the Metropolitan; E. N. Shute, assistant superintendent of the John Hancock; James Sykes, dean of the life underwriters of Lowell; Chipman C. Leach, Walter Joseph, Jr., McCann, Charles Burns, W. R. Witt, Edward Gregoire and Joseph A. Miller. A vote of thanks was tendered T. J. Bernhardt for assistance in arranging various association meetings and programs.

The members discussed at length old age pensions and some of its features in connection with general public life insurance.
